Top Of The Morning

WEATHER

Partially clearing with little change in temperature today. High 50. Fair and a little colder tonight with the thermometer falling to middle 30s. Sunday it will be fair and warmer near 60 degrees. Probability of precipitation 20 per cent this afternoon, zero tonight. Winds are from the west northwest at 12 to 20 mph, diminishing at night. Yesterday's 7 a.m. report: maximum 55, minimum 27, precipitation zero, river level 4.7 and rising.

Kinsua Dam Report

Pool level 1319.20 feet. Outflow temperature 54 degrees, upper reservoir 55 degrees. Reading at the Warren gauge 4.76 feet yesterday morning, due to rise to eight feet by midnight last night because of controlled discharge.

WARREN COUNTY

County Commissioner Blain Mead has been challenged to debate with Dr. David Rice and James G. Marshall on radio station WNAE. Mead received the invitation by letter. He said last night he would reply by mail.

A large truck turned over early last evening on Crescent park near the Hickory st. bridge. The vehicle owned by Dorcon was carrying a small crane. Damage was set at $25,500. Two men were injured slightly.

PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative leaders from both parties met with Pittsburgh Mayor Joseph Barr yesterday to discuss resolution of the stalemate over the Shafer administration tax program. Democrats are balking at tax proposals, saying there is too much fat in the budget. Both sides said the talks were helpful but saw no immediate solution.

THE NATION

In the first convictions in the state's history in a civil rights slaying, a jury found seven men guilty of participating in a Ku Klux Klan conspiracy to murder three young civil rights workers in 1964. The all-white federal court jury acquitted eight others and could not agree on the guilt of another three. The judge denounced two of those convicted, and ordered them jailed, for threatening the jury.

Negotiators for the striking United Auto Workers, said a new economic agreement between them and the Ford Motor Company is nearly complete. Although less than what the union had demanded, the benefits of the agreement reportedly would represent the largest gains in the union's history.

A Senate committee shelved a House economy bill that would have required President Johnson to cut back spending by as much as $8 billion. The Senate Appropriations Committee instead okayed a simple resolution extending government agencies' spending authority. A major clash between the economy-minded House of Representatives and the Senate is considered almost certain over federal budget-cutting.

Many top business executives are said to be disenchanted with President Johnson's handling of the federal spending and tax disputes. Members of the Business Council, who advise government officials on business matters, are meeting in Virginia, are apparently appalled at the battle between Congress and the White House over the issues.

Republican governors blocked a Demonstration effort at their annual conference, in the Virgin Islands, to win bipartisan endorsement of President Johnson's policies in Vietnam. Opposition of G.O.P. governors also prevented the passage of a resolution backing the President's tax increase proposal.

THE WORLD

Bad weather curtailed air operations over North Vietnam. In South Vietnam, government troops reported killing 195 of the enemy in a battle 20 miles south of the demilitarized zone.

Britain's labor strife intensified yesterday with a growing rail strike that crippled travel in many parts of the country. With labor troubles on the docks, in the building trades and elsewhere, thousands of Britons now find themselves inconvenienced by a strike that has caused the cancellation of 1,400 trains.

SPORTS

Townville turned two Youngsville punts into scoring opportunities last night to blank the Eagles, 13-0. A poor kick turned the tide of a tough defensive game in the second period and the host team scored again in the third stanza after putting the Eagles deep in their own territory. Page 8.

Warren's Dave Cobb took individual honors at yesterday's Section II cross country meet at Titusville, finishing first in 12:26, but as a team the Dragons had to settle for second place to Oil City. Page 9.

A favored Jamestown team hosts Warren for the 64th game of the oldest inter-state scholastic football game on record at 7:30 tonight. The Red Raiders will field a big, fast team for the contest. Page 8.

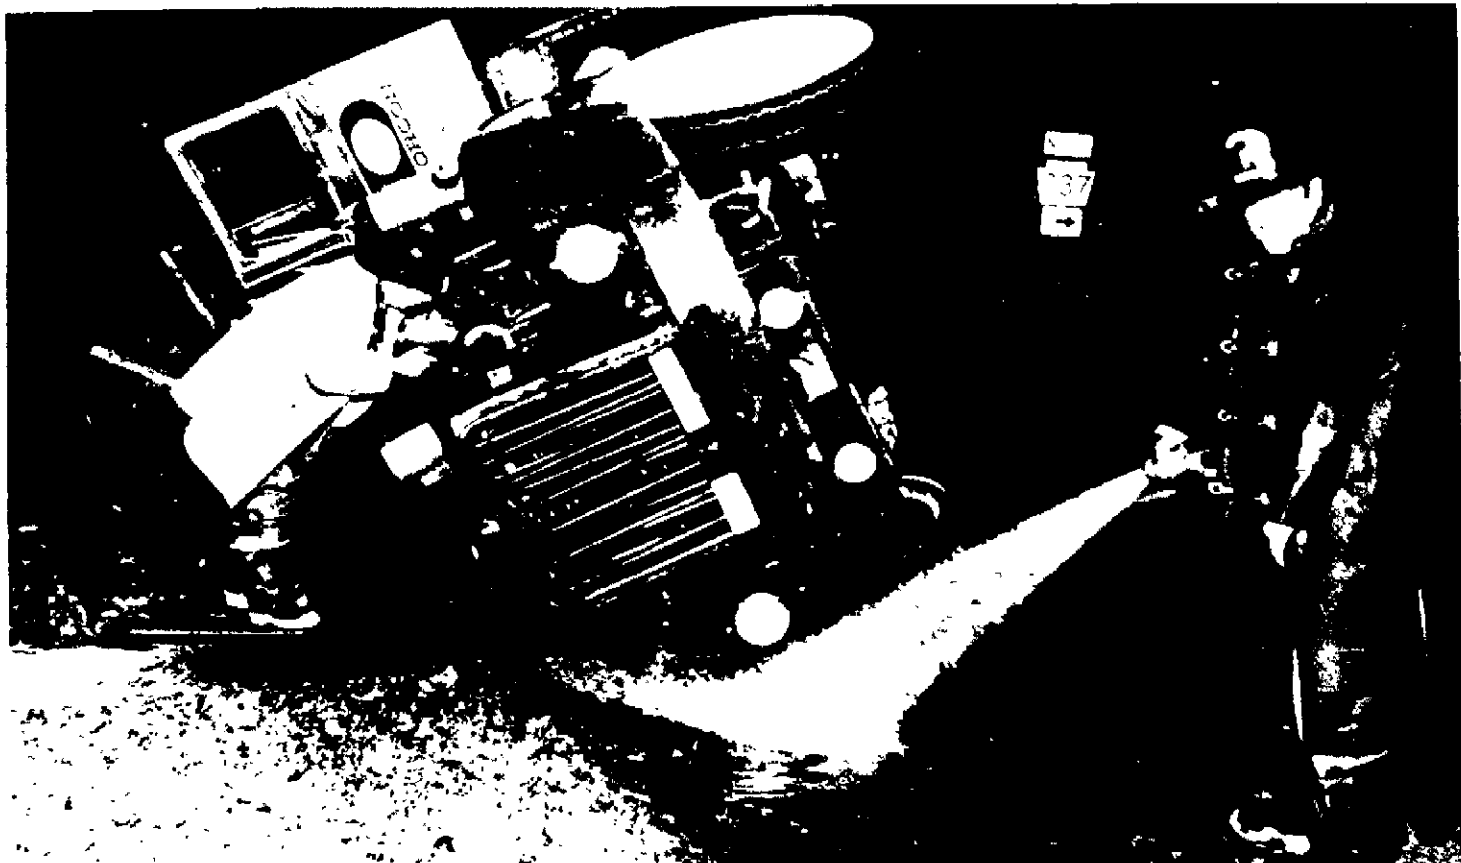

Both Eisenhower and Sheffield play at home this afternoon. The Knights host conference foe Randolph, N.Y., and the Wolverines entertain Bradford's junior varsity. Page 9.

Charles O. Finley named Bob Kennedy to manage the Athletics in Oakland next season. Kennedy piloted the Chicago Cubs in 1963 and 1964 and managed in the minors during the past season. Page 9.

DORCON TRUCK OVERTURNS

the load shifted after a chain holding it down loosened. Neither of the occupants of the truck was seriously injured. (Photo by Mahan)

Damage Set at $25,500

Two men escaped with minor injuries but property damage was estimated at $25,500 when a flat bed truck, owned by Dorcon Inc., carrying a small crane overturned on Crescent Park just south of the Hickory st. bridge yesterday at 6:38 p.m. Edward Lynn, Chattanooga, Tenn., the driver, and Allen Tilman, Tampa, Fla., were treated for abrasions at Warren General Hospital and released.

Police said the men told them they were crossing the bridge when the unit started to sway. Investigation revealed that a link in a chain device used to tighten the load down had snapped and the crane had shifted. Skid marks ran from the end of the bridge through the intersection to the point where the truck flipped. The accident was investigated by officer Robert R. Kates. Two trucks from the fire department flushed gasoline from the street.

Borough police also reported an accident at the intersection of Pennsylvania ave. and Locust st. yesterday shortly after noon. Police said a tank truck, operated by Gordon Elsworth Reese, 27, Box 592, Endeavor, turned into the United Refinery Co. loading area and

Ford-UAW Pact Almost Complete

By JERRY M. FLINT
(c) N.Y. Times News Service

DETROIT — A new economic agreement between the Ford Motor Company and the striking United Automobile Workers union is nearly complete, union negotiators said yesterday.

The agreement calls for the largest wage and fringe benefit increases in the union's history but falls far short of the auto workers' demands. While all details were not known, it appeared that the agreement called for wage and fringe benefit increases of about 5 per cent a year, plus a provision to increase wages as living costs climb. This provision could add another 2 per cent a year to the cost of the package.

The Ford and union bargainers had been meeting continuously for 31 hours — from 11 a.m. Thursday to 6 p.m. yesterday and had been expected to announce the details of the pact last evening. But they adjourned their meeting, and planned to return to the bargaining table at 11 a.m. today.

Company and union sources said that a major reason for the delay was the exhaustion on the part of the negotiators. The auto workers have reserved television time in Detroit and Walter P. Reuther, the union president, is expected to replace Oopsy the Clown at 9:30 Sunday morning to explain the contract proposal. Nearly half the 160,000 striking Ford workers live in the area.

The Ford strike is 44 days old and it will not end immediately. There may be non-economic issues and individual problems at Ford plants to be solved. The pact also must be ratified.

The auto workers apparently abandoned some major demands to reach an agreement. Company and union sources said there was no provision for salary status for production workers in the proposal, or equal pay for Canadian and American auto workers, both key union demands.

A demand for a guaranteed annual wage apparently has been satisfied by an extension of the present layoff pay system. This extension comes close to guaranteeing the worker 90 per cent of his weekly pay during layoff. The biggest union gain appeared to be in the pension area.

In addition, company men indicated that they had won a major point by putting a ceiling on a cost of living escalator clause that in the past raised pay one cent an hour for every upward movement of 0.4 in the Bureau of Labor Statistics' cost of living index.

Truckers To Vote on Compromise

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Leaders of the striking steel haulers decided yesterday to let the drivers vote on whether they want to go back to work under compromise proposals. An answer is expected by Monday.

The decision was announced in a terse statement following a four-hour meeting in Cleveland. The 16 representatives from the eight states where steel haulers have been striking for two months wouldn't say whether they would recommend the compromise to the strikers.

William Kusley, the strike leader, refused to answer any questions from reporters. He read the statement. "It was agreed the proposals would be presented to all the members for immediate action," it said. "An answer can be expected by Monday. In the meantime the strike will continue."

Pennsylvania Secretary of Labor and Industry William J. Hart warned before the meeting. "There is no room for compromise." "They've got everything we can legally get for them," said Hart, leader of a seven-state mediation panel. "If they turn down that offer today, they stay out till hell freezes over."

Bill to Cut Spending Is Shelved

By MARJORIE HUNTER

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — The Senate Appropriations Committee shelved yesterday a House economy bill that would have required presidential spending cutbacks of up to $8 billion. Instead, by a vote of 16 to 4, the committee approved a simple resolution granting spending authority through Nov. 15 to government agencies whose regular money bills have not yet cleared Congress.

The House had attached its spending limitation as a rider to a similar resolution for financing many important agencies who otherwise will become technically penniless next Monday night.

Even the most economy-minded members of the Senate committee had made it clear they thought the House spending limitations "intolerable" and "completely unrealistic."

However, there was strong sentiment on the committee to make some economy gesture. A Republican proposal for a five per cent across-the-board cutback in "controllable appropriations" was defeated on a 10-10 tie vote.

Also rejected, by a vote of 14 to 8, was a proposal ordering the President to make spending reductions of at least $5 billion.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said later he would carry his fight for a five per cent cutback to the floor next week. His proposal would reduce non-military spending by an estimated $1 billion by next June 30.

With the economy wave now spreading from the House to the usually more liberal Senate, administration leaders concede there will be a close floor fight.

"A lot of folks, mostly those up for re-election next year, want to go on record for economy," said Sen. Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., who sponsored the motion for the simple continuing resolution.

Even if the Senate rejected forced spending cutbacks and passed the unadorned resolution for temporary agency financing, a major clash is certain to develop with the House, now firmly controlled by an economy bloc.

The House is not likely to budge from its position that deep slashes be made in spending this year. This was demonstrated by the wide vote margin, 238 to 184, by which it ordered up to $8 billion in spending cutbacks on Wednesday night.

River Up

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers said yesterday the flow of the Allegheny River through Kinzua Dam was to be increased. The level at the Warren gauge at midnight last night was to be eight feet.

Top Execs Soured By LBJ's Policies

By EILEEN SHANAHAN

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
HOT SPRINGS, Va. — The stalemate between the White House and Congress over government spending policy and the tax increase is costing President Johnson the support of many top business executives who backed him for re-election in 1964.

This conclusion emerged yesterday after a day of meetings of the Business Council, an organization of more than 100 men, most of whom are the heads of the nation's largest corporations. The council meets periodically with government officials to advise them on issues of common concern.

The business chiefs believe that Johnson and Congress are both being "irresponsible" in attempting to force each other to take the lead in proposing cuts in the federal budget. What they term the President's "lack of leadership" and "playing politics" in the tax and spending dispute has soured many of them on Johnson for the first time in his nearly four years in the White House.

The council members are alarmed about the stalemate over the tax increase. Most believe that the need for a tax hike is even clearer now than it was when Johnson proposed it in August. They fear extreme inflation and "crisis" in the financial markets if Congress adjourns this fall or winter without passing the tax bill.

The business chiefs, who have traditionally been reluctant to become publicly involved in political issues, would not speak for quotation in their criticisms of the President.

Almost to a man, however, they were extremely critical of the President in their private conversations for failing to propose the reduction in government spending that key members of Congress have said are an essential prerequisite to congressional consideration of the 10 per cent tax surcharge that Johnson proposed in August.

The Citizens Committee for Rice and Marshall announced last night that County Commissioner Blain M. Mead has been challenged to debate issues in Warren County with Dr. David K. Rice and James G. Marshall.

The committee made the announcement by submitting to this newspaper copies of a letter mailed to Mead Thursday and signed by the chairman of the Committee, Dr. Ross E. Bryan.

Commissioner Mead, contacted last night, said that he would make a reply by mail to the Times-Mirror and Observer early next week. He didn't indicate whether or not he would accept the challenge.

In the letter Mead is invited to appear on radio station WNAE with Rice and Marshall and debate the issues "before the public."

"All arrangements should be mutually agreeable," the letter states. "The time, place and format of the program is a matter to be decided between you and us."

The letter did suggest that the program consist of opening statements by both sides to be followed by questions posed in by the radio. "In the interest of fair play" the moderator should be a neutral party and both sides would receive equal time to answer questions, it said. The committee said it would provide any of three half-hour programs it has bought, if Mead so wishes.

Mead, a Republican, has held the office for three terms. He received the second greatest number of votes among Republicans in the May primary. Rice was the top vote getter among the eleven GOP primary contenders. James G. Marshall of Tidouate ran third in the contest. Marshall was placed in the race as a write-in candidate and was joined by Rice. The citizens committee said it made the move because, with the large number of candidates in the primary, the outcome failed to reflect a majority opinion of Republicans.

Political Leaders Meet on State Tax

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Republican and Democratic legislative leaders met with Pittsburgh Mayor Joseph M. Barr yesterday in an effort to break a tax stalemate that is holding up funds for many programs, including the three state-related universities. The bipartisan group said afterwards that some progress had been made in the deadlock but would not predict a quick solution. They said they agreed to a round of caucuses in Harrisburg to try to find common ground on Republican Gov. Raymond P. Shafer's $285 million tax package, Democrats say there's too much fat in the proposal. Republican Sen. Robert D. Fleming, president pro tem, predicted two weeks of negotiations over "rearranging" parts of Shafer's tax plan and said it would be several weeks before the program would come before the legislature for a vote. "I am very optimistic at this moment," said Fleming when asked his outlook on the prospects for a compromise.

Move to Tighten Margin Regulation

(c) N.Y. Times News Service NEW YORK — The Federal Reserve Board moved yesterday to tighten the credit spigot that has gushed into massive stock-market speculation this year by proposing the extension of 70 per cent margin requirements to two broad new areas. However, the present 70 per cent margin required for listed stocks would not be changed. This means that for every $100 in stock purchased on margin an investor must put down $70 in cash, or securities with an equivalent loan value, and borrow the remaining $30 from his broker. The proposals by the board would extend 70 per cent margin rules to: —The purchase of convertible bonds or other securities convertible into registered stocks. —unregulated lenders—those individuals and firms, other than domestic banks and brokers, who lend money for buying or carrying securities. The board, the nation's central bank and its chief regulator of money and credit, set Nov. 20 as its deadline for inviting "comment from interested persons." Thereafter, the board has full authority to put into effect the proposals unveiled shortly after the close of the stock market at 3:30 p.m. yesterday. The reaction on Wall Street was divided. But brokers and investment officers agreed generally that the board's proposals initially would push down prices in both the bond and stock markets.

A NEW LOOK
There's a new look in the operating rooms at Warren General Hospital these days, with new uniforms for both the scrub and circulating nurses. The apparel consists of pants and a mini-blouse that helps eliminate environmental bacterial contamination and at the same time reduces transmission of skin bacteria to the atmosphere. The uniform cuts down on electrical static and gives girls more freedom and comfort of movement. GOP Governors Block Demo Effort

(c) N.Y. Times News Service ST. CROIX, Virgin Islands — Republican governors successfully blocked yesterday a Democratic effort to win bipartisan endorsement for President Johnson's policies in Vietnam. The action was taken after news had arrived from Washington that the President had refused the governors' invitation to fly down to the Caribbean and address their 59th annual conference. Only one Republican broke ranks to vote with the Democrats, Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio. He had voiced dissatisfaction with the Republican strategy earlier this week, as a strong past supporter of Johnson on Vietnam. The Johnson Administration also failed to win the governors' support for the President's tax increase program. A resolution supporting the increase along with cuts in federal spending to minimize inflation, was killed when Republican opposition arose. Gov. George Romney of Michigan, one of the two Republican pres-

195 Reds Said Killed In Battle

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese infantrymen reported today they killed 195 Communist troops in a fierce battle about 20 miles south of the demilitarized zone. It was the only major ground fighting reported in weather-bound South Vietnam. The U.S. air offensive against North Vietnam was sharply curtailed yesterday for a second successive day by Typhoon Carla. The raids conducted yesterday were confined to the southern part of North Vietnam. U.S. B-52 bombers were active up and down South Vietnam with four raids late yesterday and early today, including two strikes within 42 miles of Saigon. The eight-engine bombers, flying at 30,000 feet and above the bad weather, made the raids in support of American ground troops.

OF CIVIL RIGHTS WORKERS

Convict 7 in Murder

By BILL NEIKIRK Associated Press Writer MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Cecil R. Price, Ku Klux Klan leader Samuel H. Bowers Jr., and five other men were convicted by an all-white jury yesterday of conspiracy charges in the 1964 murder of three young civil rights workers. Eight other defendants, including Sheriff Lawrence A. Rainey of Neshoba County, were acquitted. The jury of seven women and five men, after deliberating more than 14 hours, reported itself hopelessly deadlocked in the cases of Ethel G. "Hop" Barnette, the Democratic nominee for county sheriff, and two others. U.S. Dist Court Judge Harold Cox declared a mistrial for Barnette, 47, and Edgar Ray Killen, 42, a part-time Baptist clergyman, and Jerry McGrew

Sharpe, 24, manager of a Philadelphia, Miss., pulpwood supply company. The seven convicted were found guilty of conspiring to deprive the three victims of their civil rights. The federal charge grew out of the murders of Michael Schwerner, 24, Andrew Goodman, 20, both white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro, near Philadelphia, Miss. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine. No state charges have ever been filed in the case. The mother of young Goodman, Mrs. Robert Goodman, said in New York, "For a Southern jury to convict a number of their peers was an act of great courage."

Judge Cox rebuked two of those convicted, Deputy Sheriff Price and Alton Wayne Roberts, former part-time Meridian night club bouncer. He ordered them taken into custody immediately and placed in jail at Jackson, Miss. Judge Cox said Roberts and Price were overheard in a corridor outside the courtroom "making some very loose talk" about the judge's second set of instructions, delivered to the jury Thursday after it had reached a verdict. County Agent Bernie Wingert announces there are still a few seats left for the bus tour to the Akron, Ohio, area conducted by the Extension Service for dairy farmers in northwestern Pennsylvania, November 8 and 9. Reservations will be taken on a first-come-first-serve basis. Meter Receipts Municipal on-street parking meters were tapped this week for a total of $574.76. Borough parking lots yielded $234.82.

ported itself deadlocked. Cox quoted Roberts as saying: "He gave the jury the dynamite charge. Well, we've got some dynamite for him ourselves, haven't we?" The silver-haired judge, who said he "heartily endorsed" the verdict in Roberts' case, told the defendant: "If you think you can intimidate this court, you're sadly mistaken. I'm not going to let any wild man loose on a civilized society." He did not specify what Price had said. Cox delivered what attorneys called a "supercharge" to the jury at mid-afternoon Thursday and ordered the jurors to try again to reach a verdict.

State police Cpl. William F. Kattner of the Warren substation on Thursday nabbed a deserter from the U.S. Army while in the process of attempting to serve a warrant on another individual. Apprehended at the home of a brother, Mark Gilson, of 170 Newland ave., Titusville, was Virgil Howard Gilson, 26, listed as AWOL on July 2, 1967 and as a deserter from Fort Dix, N.J., on August 8. Kattner said Gilson is presently in Warren County jail and that the FBI had been notified.

Former Resident Of Bradford Found Murdered

BRADFORD—George Butterfield, 65, of Pasadena, Md., a former resident of Bradford, who was a night watchman, was found beaten to death early Thursday, his wallet empty and a bloody piece of wood nearby at a boat repair shop on Chris Creek, Md.

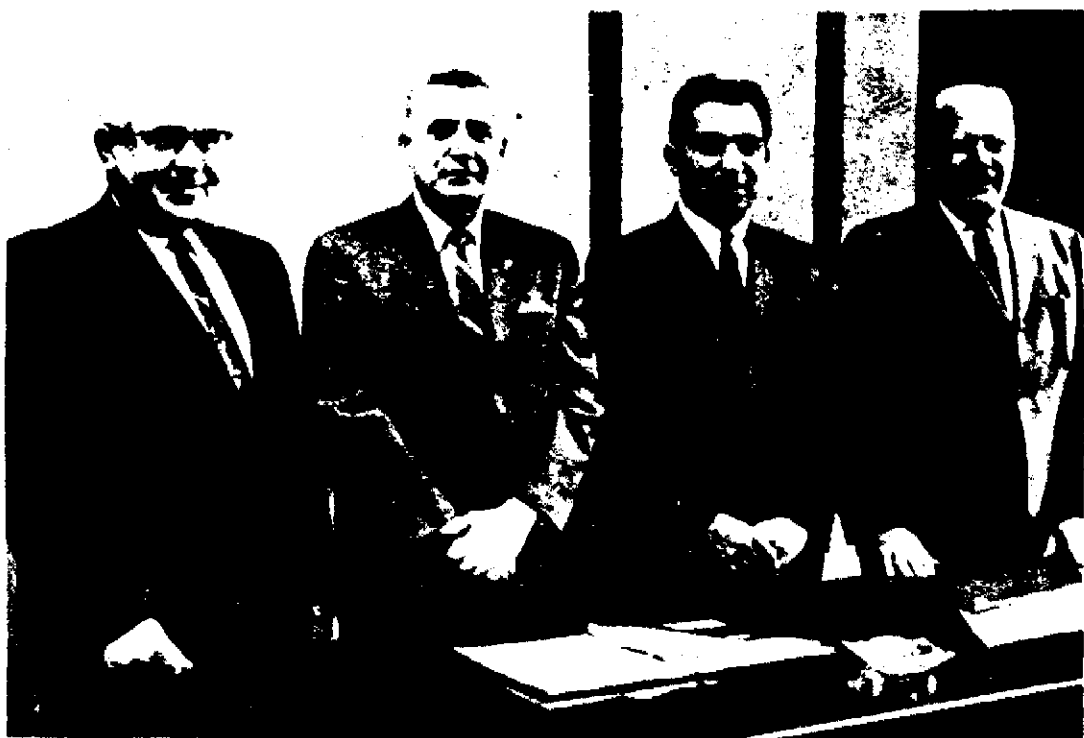

County police said the body of the victim was found by a welder when he arrived for work. Butterfield had worked at the yard since 1959. A medical examiner who pronounced him dead, said he may have been strangled on the head three times.

Mr. Butterfield is survived by two brothers, Andy Butterfield of Bradford who flew to Maryland late Thursday night, and Hiram Butterfield of Eldred. Four sisters in the area also survive.

Report Mishap In Area of Spring Creek

A Corry woman was taken to Corry Memorial Hospital Thursday afternoon after her car was involved in an accident on Route 77, about one mile east of Spring Creek in Warren County.

State police said a car operated by Mrs. Dorothy M. Nichols, 25, of Corry, attempted to overtake and pass a school bus. Police said Mrs. Nichols saw an on-coming vehicle, pulled back into her own lane and her car ran off the road.

The Nichols' vehicle struck a stop sign and culvert with damage estimated at $200. The driver was taken to Corry Memorial Hospital suffering from a possible fractured shoulder.

Leaf Schedule

Leaves will be picked up next week as follows: Monday, Water street west; Tuesday and Wednesday, Madison avenue section; Thursday and Friday, Conewango avenue section and Saturday, south side.

Home of Family of 6 Razed by Fire

MARIENVILLE—A fire believed caused by a faulty wire on an electric dryer destroyed the home of a family of six Thursday night near Marienville.

The blaze, which broke out shortly after 9 p.m., left the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Riggs and their four children a total loss.

Nearly 40 volunteer firemen from both Marienville and Farmington township battled the blaze at the large structure located on Red Cliff road about a mile south of Marienville.

In addition to their home, the Riggs family also lost all their clothing, furniture and personal possessions.

About 8:30 p.m. the Marienville department was called to a heavily wooded area about eight miles south of Marienville. A large hunting camp was burned to the ground but the fire had extinguished itself by the time firemen arrived. The department was notified of the blaze by an unidentified person. No one resided in the area.

Sheriff Faces Suit for False Arrest

TITUSVILLE—Crawford County sheriff Norman Zimmer has been threatened with a false arrest suit as a result of an incident last Friday in a Cambridge Springs tavern owned by the sheriff's wife and brother-in-law.

Threatening to file suit is Michael Southworth, 25, of RD 3, Cambridge Springs, who spent last Friday night in Crawford County jail after being arrested by Zimmer on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The incident allegedly occurred when the sheriff and his brother-in-law Wayne Ball of Edinboro, a part-owner of the tavern, began turning away Edinboro State College students who did not have official Liquor Control Board identification cards.

Zimmer said Southworth became unruly, used profanity and as a result was arrested. The latter was arranged before a Meadville peace justice and released on $200 bond pending a hearing Oct. 27.

Area Man Appeals

Crawford County Judge F. Joseph Thomas Thursday took under advisement for ruling an appeal from Harry Lackey of Youngsville, from an eminent domain condemnation proceedings by the Highway Department. Lackey formerly resided in the Meadville area. Testimony was ordered closed after testimony of Lackey and two Meadville real estate men.

Closes for Winter

Ralph E. Willard, district ranger, Allegheny National Forest stated that effective Monday the Reservoir administrative site office, Klondike, will be closed for the winter months. The staff from this office will be working out of the Bradford ranger office.

Southworth, 25, of RD 3, Cambridge Springs, claimed Thursday night the charge was trumped up. The elder Southworth said his son was operating the hotel under a lease agreement with an option to buy. The sheriff denies this and says the young man was only tending bar for his brother-in-law.

Zimmer disassociated himself from the tavern from a legal standpoint when he was appointed to the sheriff's post a year ago to fill the unexpired term of Andy Waid. Zimmer will seek to retain his post Nov. 7.

The elder Southworth said many more details will be aired before the matter is resolved.

Launch Probe for Arson In Sugar Grove Area Fire

State police Cpls. William F. Kattner and George Barron launched an arson investigation during the early morning hours yesterday.

Police said a fire was discovered at 2:05 a.m. in a large barn on the property of Irvine Leroy Chandler, 46, of RD 1, Sugar Grove on Route 957.

The owner's wife, Cecile Lorena Chandler told police she heard a car stop and thought it was her daughter arriving home. She stated she got up, looked out and turned on a light in time to see a person get out of the car and into the barn. According to Mrs. Chandler the individual came out of the barn and departed, the car traveling toward Sugar Grove.

Mrs. Chandler awakened her husband who also saw the car heading east. Chandler could see the fire in the barn and managed to keep it under control until the Sugar Grove Volunteer Fire department, directed by Chief Carl Wolcott arrived on the scene.

Kattner said loss was confined to several bales of hay and some charred timbers.

Patch of Ice Figures in Auto Accident

A patch of ice contributed to a one-car crash yesterday morning according to state police trooper Max J. Bizzak of the Warren substation.

Bizzak stated that at 8 a.m. on Route 69 near Chandlers Valley, a car operated by Florence M. Irwin, 25, RD 2, Sugar Grove, went to pass a milk truck, struck a patch of ice, went out of control, struck a concrete abutment and rolled over.

Damage was listed as total. Trooper Daniel Portzer investigated a one-car traffic accident at 10:50 p.m. Thursday on Route 6, three and a half miles west of Warren.

According to Portzer a truck driven by Gerry W. Geer, 21, Mason's Mobile City, ran off the highway on the right side, hit four guard rails and overturned on its left side.

No injuries were reported in either mishap.

Tionesta Area Youth Charged

A Tionesta area youth was arrested by state police late Wednesday as he was in the process of burglarizing a camp located in Hickory township, Forest County.

In Forest County jail in lieu of bond is Clarence Stover, 19, of Tionesta, star route. A hearing has been set for next Wednesday. Stover was charged with the burglary of two camps in Hickory townships.

Stiff New Rules Govern Bradford Athletic Events

BRADFORD—An attack on a member of the Kane High School band following last Friday's night football game here has brought a stern warning from both city and school officials Thursday and a stiff new set of rules governing conduct of fans attending athletic events in Bradford.

Police chief Robert Zimmerman revealed on Thursday that 14-year-old Edward Wright, of Tionesta avenue, Kane, son of KHS's instrumental instructor was beaten by a local youth after the game last week.

The youth in question was apprehended by local police in the Bradford Area High School parking lot by police working the game and will be petitioned to juvenile court.

The Wright boy was treated at Bradford Hospital and the following day in Kane.

A statement issued urged the community's good sportsmanship and mature judgement but stated police have been authorized to remove anyone under the influence of alcohol or with alcohol in his possession from the athletic field, parking lot, school property in general or Callahan Park.

Police are regularly on duty at games here and the joint statement, officials explained, will give them full authority to act in controlling unruly persons.

Has Warren County Seceded?

Has Warren County finally seceded from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania? This is a question that could easily come to mind while pursuing the pages of "Discover the New Pennsylvania," a magazine-like booklet of LIFE proportions recently published by the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce.

For other than the fact that listed among the 57 sources of "further information" is the Warren County Development Association, and Warren is represented as one of the 12 red dots on a map of The Great Highlands, there is little to indicate that either Warren County or the Kinzua Country is within the borders of the state.

So gross is the oversight concerning Warren County throughout the pages of the brochure that one certainly wonders if most of them weren't intentional.

On page 4, the text reads, "Of the many monuments in Pennsylvania, perhaps the most unusual is an entire mountain called Hawk Mountain." Has the author of this chapter ever heard of the Cornplanter monument, the first monument ever erected in memory of an Indian by public funds? Or for that matter, has he ever heard of Chief Cornplanter? For in the historical section reference is made to the Delaware, Shawnees, Picts, Wyandots, and Mingos—not a word about the Senecas. Yet the last Indian land in the state was owned by Seneca descendants of this famed chief.

And in this same section is it mentioned that far more prospective settlers made their way west by floating down the Allegheny River than ever traveled to their destination over the more publicized "portage" route in the southern part of the state? Certainly not.

Kinzua Dam is not mentioned in the boating section. And the public is lightly informed, "West of Kane, Route 6 takes you through the Allegheny National Forest." But Youngsville Skiway did make the book as the 45th and last entry on a list of state skiing facilities.

However the "Biggest Little Town on the Map" didn't do so good in the fishing section. Their famed Brokenstraw failed to rate mention among fifty or more of the state's outstanding fishing streams. But then neither did the most fabulous fresh water fishing in the East (according to some leading outdoor writers), the Allegheny River. Nor did the Conewago, which the Pennsylvania Fish Commission ranks as the leading northern pike stream in the state, make the list either.

In short, throughout the pages of "Discover the New Pennsylvania" tourists and vacationers are advised to go anywhere but Warren County. So if we haven't already seceded from the Commonwealth perhaps the time has come to give it some thought. Certainly the promotional departments of either Ohio or New York State couldn't do any worse by us than the ill-informed staff writers of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce have done in the past.

In Hau Nghia Province

BA TRAI HAU NGHIA PROV. INCE, South Vietnam — Former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge used to say that "if we can make a dent on Hau Nghia province, we can succeed anywhere." His reasons were simple enough. The province is an artificial creation, set up as the last act of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem. Diem wanted provincial military and administrative machinery in place just before the Viet Cong was already gaining ground so alarmingly at this former juncture of two other provinces and because the new province also was the main VC approach to Saigon and the central war zones from the southern delta.

After Diem's murder, when the whole administrative structure of South Vietnam came absolutely apart, Hau Nghia soon became unique in the entire military-political geography of the country. Briefly, the other provinces, if well organized by the VC, had a provincial VC battalion and district VC companies. Hau Nghia alone had a provincial VC regiment, plus at least two VC district battalions.

I came to Hau Nghia for the first time six months ago when the U.S. 25th Division was just beginning its serious clearance effort here. It was mean, hedgerow fighting, and I then found it hard to see how any solid result could be achieved. But today there is a solid result.

Of Hau Nghia's four districts, the first two, Duc Hue and Duc Hoa, centering on this province capital of Ba Trai, have been quite thoroughly cleared and brought under government control. The men of the U.S. 25th Division have moved out to clear the two remaining districts to the northwest of the province, and in this lower half of Hau Nghia the task of preventing any regression to VC control has been already handed over to the South Vietnamese army and regional and popular forces.

An essential part of the clearance was the destruction of the huge, permanent enemy base-and-refuge areas that made Hau Nghia such a difficult province in the first instance. This is still going on. As described in a previous report, the Pineapple Plantation has been dealt with, and the grim Hobo Woods are being dealt with.

The South Vietnamese army

lacked the simple military muscle for the tasks that the U.S. 25th Division took in hand so well. But with these tasks completed, the Americans here are firmly convinced that the whole province — the worst of all provinces in South Vietnam — can be largely handed over to the South Vietnamese in a matter of months. And this is the most interesting fact of all.

The province chief, Lt. Col. Ma Sonh Nhon, is doubly unique as the only South Vietnamese holding the U. S. Silver Star and the only province chief who is also the commander of an infantry regiment. The regiment belongs to the South Vietnamese 25th Division, widely billed as the worst in the country. Yet Col. Nhon was categorical that he could do the job soon to be entrusted to him. "If I have firepower and mobility,"

In the first phase, some of the firepower and mobility will have to be American because the South Vietnamese forces are underarmed and under-equipped in other ways as well. In addition, the U. S. 25th Division's base at Cu Chi, in one of the two districts now being cleared, will continue to be used for a while; and two American battalions will thus remain in the province for a while. But two battalions are a very different force from an entire division.

Overall, it must be added, the handover to Col. Nhon and his South Vietnamese will have certain inherent risks. The remains of at least five enemy battalions, all formerly based in Hau Nghia, are still lurking in various no man's lands on the fringes of the province, mainly along the Cambodian border.

Two of these battalions, the remnants of the former provincial regiment, have also been brought up to strength again — as usual, nowadays, with North Vietnamese troops infiltrated southward. Even one successfully intruding enemy battalion, using its full weight and power, can knock down all too much of what has been so painfully built up here.

Conservational Counselling And Compost

Last weekend over seventy 4-H Leaders from 13 northwestern Pennsylvania counties, attended a Leader Forum here in Warren. Friday evening and Saturday morning were spent exchanging ideas and learning new methods of working with boys and girls. The event ended with a boat cruise on the Kinzua Lake. If you recall last Saturday was raining until after lunch and then the sun came out in time to brighten up the leaves, and make lovely lineings around the cloud edges. I'm certain that our visitors will be back for more! Warren County in October is for people who enjoy living.

There's considerable interest in all areas of our county in campground and travel trailer parks. If you own land and are thinking of developing such an area or want to expand a present operation, plan to attend the Campground Workshop at Penn State November 3rd and 4th. Some of the topics to be covered include: Should I develop a campground or trailer park business? Installing and expanding electric hookups; Swimming pool size and cost; How to control mosquitoes and other annoying insects; and, providing water for drinking and bathing facilities on the campground. Again—this is designed especially for campground operators or those who think they want to get into the business. Turning a woods into a campground shouldn't be regarded as a get-rich-quick proposition. Often the returns are pretty low, and you need to be a real manager in order to succeed in this type of business. If you want a copy of the workshop program, call our office 723-7550 and we'll be happy to send one to you.

I almost forgot to mention a part of last week's Leader Training Session that was particularly interesting. Erie County 4-H leaders and an "IFYE" from Costa Rica presented it. "IFYE" probably confuses you. Really it is one of the most fruitful foreign exchange programs of all time — "International Farm Youth Exchange" conducted by the National 4-H Club Foundation. In the last 19 years over 3500 young farm people around the world have helped countries understand each other's problems and challenges better. Over 25,000 host families in 71 countries have participated in the program. The reason it has earned such a high reputation—Growing food is the most important job in the WORLD today. ## A Family Setting WASHINGTON — A government-sponsored study on alcoholism has just been released and some of the recommendations are bound to cause quite a flurry in the United States. The study said that it should be national policy to adopt realistically to a predominantly "drinking society." It is believed that if you made alcoholic beverages available to children, there would be less drinking than if you repressed them.

Having lived in France for a long time, I'm not sure the suggestions will produce the hoped-for results. Children in France drink wine at a very early age, and the French have one of the largest alcoholism problems in the world. I recall that in the Calvados, where the best apple brandy is made, the teachers once protested because mothers were giving their children a shot of brandy in the morning and the kids were staggering all over the roads on their way to school.

Even if the study is correct, the big question is 'How do you promote drinking in a family setting?' The scene is the home of the Thompsons. It's 6 o'clock in the evening. Mr. Thompson yells up to his teenage son, "George, can I make you a martini?"

"No thanks, Dad, I'd rather have a glass of milk." "Listen, you come down right away and drink this martini or you won't get any dinner."

"OK, but I still have a hang-over from the white wine Mom packed in my lunch." "One martini won't hurt you, and besides, it will keep you from becoming an alcoholic."

George comes downstairs, and Mrs. Thompson comes out of the kitchen. Karen Thompson, their 14-year-old daughter, enters and says, "Hi, folks. What's for dinner?"

Mrs. Thompson says, "I've made a turtle soup with sherry, a beef in Burgundy sauce, salad with white wine dressing and for dessert brandied cherries and coffee served with whipped cream and Irish whiskey."

"Oh, boy," George says, "I knew I should have done my homework before dinner." "That's enough of that," Mr. Thompson says sternly. "Your mother has been slaving over a hot bar all day long, and the least you can do is not make wisecracks about her cooking."

Mrs. Thompson says, "Karen, you didn't eat the orange in your whiskey sour."

"But how else are you going to get your vitamins?" "Where's Freddy?" Mr. Thompson asks.

"He's up in bed. He passed out from all those liqueur-filled chocolates you brought home last night."

"Serves him right for eating between meals."

After dinner the family is back in the living room. Mr. Thompson and George are singing "Sweet Adeline." Karen is sitting on top of the piano, and Mrs. Thompson is making daquiris.

Freddy comes staggering down the stairs. "I'm hungry." "All right," Mrs. Thompson says. "Help yourself to a cold glass of beer in the icebox."

But No Hard Evidence

WASHINGTON — In search for a conspiracy behind last summer's race riots, the President's Commission on Civil Disorders has come across intriguing information that extremists of both the left and the right may have helped to stir up the Negro ghettos. No hard evidence has been uncovered, however, to nail down the recurring reports.

Widespread publicity has already been given to reports that left-wing agitators helped to foment the racial explosions. Communist-bongued firebrands like Shokely Carmichael and Rap Brown certainly barnstormed around the country delivering provocative speeches. The commission has learned, however, that they may have been motivated more by money than conspiracy. Both Carmichael and Brown spoke for pay, pulling down fees as high as $1,000 a performance.

What hasn't been publicized is that right-wing extremists may also have helped to provoke Negro violence. The commission is investigating specific reports that radicals of the right, hoping to hurt California's Gov. Pat Brown on the eve of Ronald Reagan's successful challenge, slipped money to Negro agitators before the 1965 Watts riot.

Other informants have tipped off the commission that right-wingers helped to finance the racial holocaust in Detroit. Reportedly, they wanted to spite the Presidential drive of Michigan's Gov. George Romney, whom they have viciously attacked in their tracts. These tracts have been circulated in some areas, ironically, by supporters of Romney's fellow Mormon, ex-Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

The Presidential commission has directed its chief investigator, Milan Mishovsky, a veteran of 13 years with the Central Intelligence Agency, to get to the bottom of these reports.

His staff is also examining the tapes of TV newscasts shown before, during and after the riots to determine what part they may have played in encouraging Negroes to join in the violence. Informants have told the staff, for example, that TV crews sometimes faked sensational scenes and provocative interviews in order to collect bonuses which reportedly were offered for footage shown on the news shows.

The commission is looking into all 107 racial disturbances reported during the summer. The 11 members, not satisfied merely to hear testimony and sift through reports, also have visited the ghettos to see conditions for themselves. Most were so shocked at the appalling poverty that they expect to emphasize in their first preliminary report that misery and hopelessness, more than conspiracy, probably drove Negroes to violence.

Many members are convinced, however, that both the reds and the right-wingers tried to exploit Negro desperation for their own political purposes.

The Private Colleges

Mr. McGeorge Bundy has told us, doom-like, that the nation's private colleges face "imminent bankruptcy," which as a matter of fact they don't, though it is true that they are hard-pressed. The solution advanced by the president of the largest private foundation in the world is that one would expect: "a drastic increase in government support."

There is always a kind of self-fulfilling logic in the statist's approach to things. One has only to assure the relative impoverishment of the private sector. In order to be able to observe that only the public sector can afford to pay. So that one has to wrench oneself free of the governing superstitions in order to ask a question—settling simple: how is it that as we grow richer and richer, we can apparently afford to do less and less for ourselves? Has the government really permitted all the surplus money? Is it really beyond the means of an alumni body to support its own schools?

There are many complicating factors, of course—there always are, like the super-high cost of cyclotrons or whatever you call them. But the substantially untapped reserve of the private college is alumni loyalty. There are small colleges whose graduates are simply not affluent enough to maintain them in such a way as to provide effective competition for the publicly-endowed colleges. But that isn't so of a lot of the colleges, to which access is increasingly limited by reason of family background. Ironically, such discrimination as there is is

Anderson

Lt. Gen. Robert Cushman, commander of the beleaguered Marines who have been standing off the North Vietnamese along the demilitarized zone, has requested permission either to withdraw the defense line out of range of the artillery emplacements in North Vietnam or else to permit his Marines to harass the enemy across the border.

The Marines have been taking a pounding in their fixed positions which are conveniently located within reach of underground mortar and artillery emplacements north of the border. A steady hail of bombs from our giant B-52s has failed to silence these guns.

In his confidential reports, Cushman has contended that the Marines are assault troops trained to attack, not to hold fixed positions. The infiltrating North Vietnamese troops know exactly where the Marines are holed up, but the Marines cannot scout across the border to pinpoint the North Vietnamese positions.

The real estate that the Marines are holding also has no economic value and little military value. Cushman would rather let the North Vietnamese infiltrate across the demilitarized zone, then engage them deeper in South Vietnam where they can be cut off from their operational bases. They would also be deprived of the artillery cover of the big, underground guns.

The other alternative suggested by Cushman would be to unleash the Marines to attack across the border, destroy the gun emplacements and disrupt the enemy's back-up bases. This, of course, would be headlined around the world as an American invasion of North Vietnam.

Note: Because the Marines have been forced to hold fixed positions under North Vietnam's guns, their casualties have been mounting alarmingly. Over half of the U.S. casualties in Vietnam the past several weeks have been suffered by the Marines.

The Republicans, led by Rep. Albert Quile of Minnesota and Charles Goodell of New York, are working behind the scenes to sabotage the anti-poverty program. Both Congressmen, of course, live comfortably on their $30,000-a-year Congressional salaries, plus fringe benefits.

Quile was a prosperous farmer in Dennison, Minn., before his election to Congress. And Goodell was a partner in a thriving law firm in Jamestown, N.Y. They have nothing to worry about. But the Census Bureau reports that 30 million Americans still live under poverty conditions. That's 30 million Americans who have no farms or law firms or $30,000 salaries to feed and clothe their families.

On the Senate side, the recent vote rejecting expansion of federal work opportunity programs was a joint to groups such as the National Farmers Union which want to permit low-income people to work their way out of poverty instead of relying on public relief.

Apparently members of Congress on both sides of the Capitol want to keep things just as they are.

the achievement tests made it predictable that he would graduate with his class, would be instantly admitted to his father was an alumnus of Princeton. Since then—in search of the ex-quietly balanced sociological school, which must, as Randall Jarrell spoofed in his novel about Benton College, include one girl from Tierra del Fuego—Princeton has gone the egalitarian way.

It is going to be increasingly difficult to get private money by platonic appeals to the cause of Education. Why should the alumni of Yale contribute money to hire Eminent Professor X, the great historian, away from Johns Hopkins? Professor X can contribute as much to the abstract cause of History writing books in Baltimore, as in New Haven, Connecticut. He will communicate his knowledge to very bright students at Baltimore, just as well as at New Haven. The difference, we soon see, is that at New Haven, Professor X will be teaching our sons, our grandsons—for that privilege, alumni are prepared to make sacrifices. But there must be a complementary presumption in favor of their alma mater.

Mr. McGeorge Bundy seems to believe that the private colleges simply cannot survive without that "drastic increase" in government support. Once again, shaking ourselves free of the operative premises, it pays occasionally to remind ourselves that the government has to get the money from private people in the first instance, and that before Mr. Bundy gives up altogether, deep reforms should be attempted, such as the one I speak of, and a good many others, including direct tax deductions (The Howard Plan). The private colleges will survive if they fill a need. It is this need they should primarily concern themselves with meeting.

Trying To Light Bonfires

HARRISBURG — For two months now, Gov. Shafer has been trying to light bonfires at the grass roots. He wants people to write letters he can show the Legislature . . . letters describing the urgent need for new taxes.

He has had one response.

Three men sent a single telegram. They were the presidents of Penn State, Temple and the University of Pitts-b urgh, whose combined interest in the State's largesse exceeds $95 million. "As heads of the major universities that depend upon support from the Commonwealth," said the presidents, "we must report to you that financial problems have reached an alarming stage."

This imposing message in hand, the Governor called his Legislative Secretary, Hugh Flaherty, for a full rundown on "the rest of the reaction." Secretary Flaherty had a jarring report:

"The telegram," he told the Governor, "stands alone."

"Not one parent of more than 20,000 Penn State students has felt the situation sufficiently urgent to send a wire requesting funds," Flaherty told the Governor.

"Not one Temple student has felt his scholarship in jeopardy deep enough to motivate him to write or call for help."

"Not one faculty member from Pitt has called or written, urging the appropriation."

"Not one single Pennsylvanian — save for Walker (Penn State), Anderson (Temple) and Posvar (Pitt) — has felt alarmed at the lack of appropriated funds for State-subsidized schools."

"Or our hospitals."

"Or our mental health clinics."

"Or our clean streams programs."

The Governor gets messages regularly from Democratic Minority Leader Herbert Fineman. They usually clatter in over the wire service teletype that pipes directly into the front office. Now Rep. Fineman was answering the telegram to the Governor.

"It is unfortunate," Fineman wrote the college presidents, "that the Governor is endeavoring to use your institution as one of his pawns in his fight to force the Legislature to adopt unnecessary taxes to fund an inflated budget and to discharge political patronage commitments. We shall not be a willing party to any such distasteful conduct."

The messages from Fineman and the college presidents are the extent of the reaction to Gov. Shafer's request that citizens bombard their legislators with requests for new taxes. But citizens do write. Ironically, at the very moment Gov. Shafer sought citizen support for new taxes, the public school teachers' lobby was scoring one of its biggest letter-writing triumphs.

It has incited an avalanche of mail against House Bill 1136, the proposal to supply $26 million in State aid to non-public schools.

One legislator reports receiving over 700 letters in a week's time, all on 1136.

"If there's a letter in the pile asking us to increase taxes," he said, "I haven't found it."

Stocks End Week On Downward Note

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK—The stock market ended the trading week yesterday on a downward note. Price declines on the New York Stock Exchange outnumbered advances for the fifth consecutive session, with 801 issues off, 435 up.

The principal casualties were Du Pont, which closed at 162 3/4, down 3 points, and Westinghouse, off 3 points to 73 1/4. Glamour issues moved against the trend with gains of 5 points or more by Xerox, Polaroid and Control Data, all of which have reported sharp increases in September-quarter earnings.

25 Rails 135.55 down 0.42
25 Industrials 919.96 down 3.88
50 Stocks 527.75 down 2.15

The Dow-Jones industrial average closed at its lowest level of the day at 896.73, down 6.99 points. This brought its net loss for the week to 21.44 points, double last week's decline of 10.57 points.

Broader-based market indicators, buoyed in part by the glamour stocks, showed smaller declines. The Big Board's composite index closed at 52.93, down 0.06 point, and Standard & Poor's 500-stock index at 95.38, down 0.05. The New York Times combined average of 50 industrial and railroad stocks dropped 2.15 to 527.75. Shares of the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads lent strength to the railroad group following Thursday's decision by a three-judge federal court that upheld the long-delayed merger of the two carriers. Stocks of both companies, however, finished below their highest levels of the day. The Norfolk and Western Railway, a consistent opponent to the merger, is expected to appeal the decision.

Central shares traded as high as 73 3/4 and closed at 71 1/4, up 1 1/2. Pennsy stock moved as high as 60 3/4, but finished at 59 3/4. Norfolk & Western closed at 100 1/2, down 1 1/4. Stocks that posted new highs for the year fell to 21 from Thursday's 55, while new lows dipped to 57 from 58.

Volume fell off sharply on the price decline. Turnover amounted to 9.51 million shares against 11.62 million Thursday. Seven of the 15 most-active finished with gains and seven were lower. Pan American Sulphur, which topped the list, closed unchanged at 39 3/4. On the American Stock Exchange the index of stock prices dropped 10 cents to $22.57. Of 951 issues traded, 505 lost ground and only 272 advanced.

WARREN HOLDS ONE GAME EDGE IN LONG RIVALRY

Raiders Favored Over Dragons In 64th Meeting Tonight

Jamestown High School hosts Warren Area High at 7:30 at College Stadium tonight for the 64th game in a fierce football rivalry, the oldest Pennsylvania-New York State scholastic series on the books.

The Red Raiders go into the contest with a 3-1 mark and the Dragons are 4-2.

The New York Staters opened with a convincing 34-0 triumph over Dunkirk, and slipped past Olean, 14-12 before being edged by Corry, 7-6. Last week, the Raiders hammered West Seneca, 33-6.

The Dragons notched a victory over Corry the first time out, then dropped straight decisions to Franklin and Titusville. Since then, however, the Blue and White has routed Oil City, Meadville and Olean.

As is the case whenever these two arch-rivals meet on the gridiron, however, records and comparative scores mean nothing.

Jamestown has been made the favorite to even the long-standing series tonight.

According to TMO records, the two teams have met at least once each football season since the opening of the series in 1893, except for 1949 and 1950. Warren has won 31 games against 30 for Jamestown. Two games ended in ties, oddly enough both were scoreless in 1944 and 1954.

The Dragons dominated the series between 1893 and 1924, winning 18 of the 25 games played. Jamestown's greatest successes came between 1925 and 1943, when the Red Raiders compiled 15 victories in 19 contests.

A rule permitting post-graduate students to play football at Jamestown led to the cessation of the series for the 1949 and 1950 seasons, then it was resumed in 1951.

Ironically, it was Dragon Coach Toby Shea who scored the lone touchdown in the 1951 clash, a 6-0 triumph over a previously undefeated Red Raider eleven.

Warren had marched 65 yards with the opening kickoff, sparked by the running of fullback Shea and halfback Dean Velling, and the Dragons' present mentor ripped through the line for the final three yards.

The victory ended the coaching career of J.B. Leidl.

Since that time, however, the Red and Green has come on to win nine of 16 meetings, with one game ending deadlocked. Jamestown has won six of the last 10 meetings and three of the last five.

Another notable aspect of the long series is that there is no such thing as a home field advantage. Last season, the Raiders won the game at Warren, 14-7 and in 1965 the Dragons took a 12-0 verdict at Jamestown. In fact, since the resumption of the series in 1951, the visiting team has won nine times.

Warren's biggest margin of victory came in 1924 when the Dragons handed the Red Raiders a 34-0 shellacking. Jamestown returned the favor in 1931, rolling to a 40-6 romp, then white-washed the Blue and White by a 34-0 score in 1942.

Lopsided games in recent years included a 21-0 triumph by the Dragons in 1958 and Jamestown's 33-0 drubbing here in 1964.

Depending on the weather, tonight's encounter could be another wide-open affair. Both teams have potent running attacks and Jamestown showed its air game against West Seneca last Saturday, hitting on 11 of 17 passes for 196 yards.

Statistics show that the Raiders have 1 shed for 1,200 yards in four games, an impressive 300-yard per game average. They have compiled 239 yards through the air, completing a total of 19 of 36 aeriats and have rung up 64 first downs.

By comparison, Jamestown's defense has held four opponents to 30 first downs, 354 yards rushing and only 99 yards passing.

Coached by Tony Nunes, the Raiders have size and speed. Senior tackle Frank Swigonski at 6-2, 211-pounds anchors the line on both offense and defense. He is the Raiders' team captain and is rated an outstanding lineman by Coach Shea.

At left end, Jamestown will have Jeff Glatz (180), with Gary Peters (195) at right end. With Swigonski at tackle offensively will be Bob Hodges (195). The guards are Greg Peterson (175) and Randy Bloomquist (180) and Steve Sampson (212) is the center.

A quick backfield has reportedly been weakened by the benching of senior left halfback John Messina (160), a speed merchant who has been the cog in Jamestown's running attack. If Messina doesn't play tonight, his replacement will be either Chuck Antonuccio (145) or Len Howie (160).

Steve Bancroft, a 160-pound senior who Shea rates as faster than Messina, will quarterback the Raiders, Jim Jacobson (165) will be at right halfback and pile-driving Tom Roselle (212) will be the fullback.

On defense, Jamestown will probably go with Swigonski, Hodges, Jim Connelly (240) and Steve Cusimano (192) in the line. Ed Morales (157), Bernie Jones (219), Gary Ferguson (180), Ray Hodnett (140) and Carl Rizzo (150) are other defensive specialists.

Nunes indicated earlier this week that he may play two-platoon football against the Dragons tonight.

Shea, on the other hand, will be able to make few changes between his offensive and defensive units. Hopefully thin at several positions, the Dragons have been fortunate to arrive at this point of the season without too many serious injuries.

The few changes on defense will see junior Bill Songer at end, junior Dana Sorensen at one linebacking post and Mike Curren at halfback.

Like Jamestown, the running game has been Warren's strong suit all season. If the Dragons are not able to move the ball on a big, aggressive Raider line, Shea will have to depend on his passing game, which has shown some improvement in recent weeks, although against notably weak opponents.

A capacity crowd is expected for tonight's encounter.

Townville Wins Tough Defensive Struggle Over Youngsville, 13-0

By DAN PRATZ

TOWNVILLE — Townville High played position football and took advantage of two poor Youngsville punts to blank the Eagles, 13-0, in a battle of defenses here last night.

The home team scored first in the second stanza after a Youngsville boot gave them good field position, then turned another punt from deep in the Eagles' territory into the clinching score in the third period.

Neither team had much success at sustaining drives until Townville posted its first touchdown and Youngsville didn't mount a threat until near the end of the game. An interception halted that attempt by the Red and White to get on the scoreboard.

The statistics point up the defensive battle that waged. Each team was able to pick up only four first downs. Townville held Youngsville to 82 yards in total offense, 67 of it coming on the ground. Eagle quarterback Gary Wood, in his worst game of the season, completed only three of 15 passes for a meager 15 yards.

Townville was stopped for a slim 39 yards rushing, but four of eleven passes were caught for a total of 77 yards, giving the host club only 116 yards in total offense.

Neither team was able to mount a scoring threat in the opening quarter and the battle continued well into the second period before Townville got a break.

With the Eagles stopped on their 46-yard line, Wood went back to punt on fourth down. The ball squibbed off his foot and was downed on the Townville 45, a nine-yard boot.

Townville threw the bomb on the first play from scrimmage. Quarterback Art Nichols spotted right end Jim Pringle behind two Eagle defenders downfield and lofted the ball to him.

Pringle gathered in the aerial at about the 28 and outraced the desperate Eagles to the goal to break the scoreless tie. Bob Holcomb kicked the point after and Townville had a 7-0 lead just before halftime.

Youngsville took the second half kickoff, but were unable to move the ball and punted to Townville. The host team picked up two first downs, before the Eagle defense tightened, then they punted back.

The punt rolled dead on the Youngsville four and the Eagles failed in two plays to get it out of dangerous territory and elected to boot it on third down.

Townville took possession on the Youngsville 31 and moved right in for the touchdown that iced the game.

Nichols hit Doug Peters with a 17-yard pass and a running play gained one more. Then Nichols carried for a nine-yard pickup and a first down on the Youngsville four.

Holcomb, who was honored for his outstanding play, swept around his right end, led to the touchdown on the next play. His attempted placement failed, but Townville had taken a solid 13-0 lead with about three minutes left in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Youngsville stopped another drive and took over on the 14-yard line. A first-down play lost seven yards, then Tom Burleigh ripped off a 12-yard gain.

On the next play, Conrad Danielson turned his left end and broke into the clear. He romped to the Townville 33 before he was hauled down and the Eagles had their best chance of the game to break into the scoring column.

Townville picked off a Wood aerial on the following play to kill the drive. The interception was made right at the goal line, Townville ran out the clock to notch its fifth victory.

RANKINGS HANG IN BALANCE

Trojans, Vols in Crucial Clashes on College Grid

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Powerful Southern California will be looking for clear skies and the Tennessee Volunteers for revenge in featured games on today's college football program.

The Trojans, ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, take on the Washington Huskies at Seattle where rain is predicted. The seventh-ranked Volunteers, who blew a 10-point lead in losing to Alabama 11-10 last year, meet the sixth-ranked Clemson Tide at Birmingham.

Second-ranked Purdue plays Oregon State; UCLA, No. 3, meets Stanford; Colorado, No. 4, faces Nebraska; and North Carolina State, No. 5, plays Wake Forest.

In other games involving teams listed among the Top Ten, it's eight-ranked Georgia against VMI; Houston, No. 9, against Mississippi State and Wyoming, No. 10, versus Wichita State.

Bulls Trade Guy Rodgers

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bulls traded Guy Rodgers to the Cincinnati Royals for Flynn Robinson, a pair of high future draft choices and an undisclosed amount of cash last night.

Rodgers, a 6-foot guard, helped the Bulls reach the National Basketball Association playoffs in their first year of existence last season. The Bulls originally drafted Rodgers from San Francisco.

Rodgers, a 10-year NBA veteran, averaged 18 points a game last season and also led the league in assists last year with 11.2 a game.

Bears' Lineman Set for Browns

CHICAGO (AP) — Offensive lineman Jim Cadlie, benched four games by a knee injury, will rejoin the Chicago Bears for their National Football League game against the Browns at Cleveland tomorrow.

Harriers Second At Section Meet

TITUSVILLE — Warren's Dave Cobb took first place in the Section II cross country meet as expected here yesterday, but Oil City nosed out the Dragons for team honors.

Both teams placed five runners in the top 20, but the Oilers finished three among the first ten and compiled a total of 43 points to 48 for the Dragons.

Meadville finished third with 65 points, followed by Titusville (36), Cranberry (138) and Franklin (131).

In repeating as individual champion, Cobb eased to a 12:26 clocking on the 2 1/2 mile course at the Titusville Country Club. ## Yaz Signs Contract Guessed at $100Gs

By JAMES F. DONOHUE
BOSTON (AP) — Boston Red Sox slugger Carl Yastrzemski signed a one-year contract yesterday and said the salary was "the kind of figure I always dreamed about as a boy." Most guesses put it at $100,000.

The exact figure was not disclosed, but Red Sox General Manager Dick O'Connell said the contract "makes Carl one of the best paid players in Red Sox history and the contract is in the upper class of contracts in baseball."

Yastrzemski said the pact was limited to the 1968 season and carried no bonus clauses. "It's a straight salary contract," he said.

Yastrzemski, who won the American League's Triple Crown this season and led the Red Sox to their first pennant in 21 years, made an estimated $45,000 this year.

It is Red Sox policy not to disclose players' salaries.

"I am very, very happy to be signing this contract," Yastrzemski said. "This year has been a great personal thrill for me. After being down for six years in the second division, it was wonderful to play with a pennant-winning club and not have to read about it in the newspapers."

"I amazed myself this year. I don't know what it was. I just had so much confidence that whenever I came up to the plate I KNEW I could do it."

Yastrzemski led the league in batting at .326 and 121 runs batted in and tied Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins in home runs with 44.

The contract makes the 28-year-old left-handed slugger the second highest player in Red Sox history behind Ted Williams, who made an estimated $125,000 during his heyday.

There had been speculation that Yastrzemski's pay might be partially deferred so that he would get some of it after his retirement, estimated about 1974.

Crew Shatters Speed Records

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Mickey Thompson, a 400-mile-per-hour driver, broke a four-year retirement Thursday and joined two others in setting a flock of stock car records.

Thompson, who drove his challenger 406.1 m.p.h. in 1960, is on a team headed by Smokey Yunick of Daytona Beach, Fla. Yunick has three Camaros on the Salt Flats. Thompson and Bunky Blackburn and Johnny Patterson of Daytona Beach drove them to GWT standing and flying mile and kilo records.

CAPTAIN CUP TEAMS

Ryder Cup team captains Dai Rees (left) of the British team and Ben Hogan of the U.S. were all smiles as they discussed pairings for yesterday's opening matches at Houston. Paced by Arnold Palmer and Gardner Dickinson, the U.S. took a 5 1/2 to 2 1/2 lead in the event. (See story below)

Palmer, Dickinson Spark Yanks to Ryder Cup Lead

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP) — A miracle shot by Arnold Palmer and a streak of phenomenal putting by his partner, Gardner Dickinson, paced the United States to a 5 1/2-2 1/2 lead over the pride of Britain's golf professionals yesterday in the 17th biennial Ryder Cup matches.

Palmer and Dickinson, the latter playing in his first Ryder Cup series, scored two triumphs in the 18-hole Scotch foursome matches as did another strong-armed U.S. pair, Bob Nichols and Johnny Pott. The patchwork team of Tony Jacklin, 23-year-old rookie, and big Dave Thomas, the long hitting Welshman, provided the invaders with their strongest resistance.

This smooth working duo won both its tests while the split point was the result of a squared match in the morning between Britain's rugged George Will and Brian Huggett on one side and America's highly rated Julius Boros and Bill Casper on the other.

By coincidence, Will and Huggett were thrown against Boros and Casper again in the afternoon. Again, they fought it out tooth and nail to the final hole, the Yanks winning 1-up.

Eight Scotch foursome matches, in which two-man teams hit alternate shots, got the 40-year-old international competition off the ground over the 7,166-yard, par 71 Cypress Creek course of the Champions Club.

Eight best-ball matches will be played today with 16 singles duels tomorrow climaxing the series which the Yanks have lost only three times since it was started in 1927 and never on this side of the Atlantic.

The millionaire Palmer and his reed-thin, 130-pound partner — a carbon copy of Bantam Ben Hogan, the U. S. Ryder Cup captain — were a relaxed and jaunty twosome as they first edged Peter Alliss and Irishman Christy O'Connor 2 and 1 and then crushed a pair of British Cup rookies, Malcolm Gregson and Hugh Boyle 5 and 4.

The American pair knocked in a total of eight birdies — half of them on unconsciously long putts by the 39-year-old Dickinson. Palmer hit the key shot of the morning round when he slashed out of the woods on the 15th hole and put the ball to within seven feet of the cup after bending it around a towering pine.

Nichols and Pott, two strapping six-footers who also teamed well, scored the most one-sided triumph in the morning by beating an off-form Neil Coles and Bernard Hunt, two Ryder Cup veterans, 6 and 5. They found tougher sailing in the afternoon in Alliss and O'Connor, winning 2 and 1.

Palmer's recovery shot on the 428-yard 15th in the morning match will go down as one of the historic blows of this competition.

Dickinson hooked the ball into a thicket of trees and left his partner with what looked to be an impossible job. The ball was in deep grass with a pine towering between it and the hole. Palmer lashed a six-iron shot around the tree and the ball rolled to within five feet of the cup.

Dickinson more than did his part, however, sinking putts of 10, 12, 18 and 30 feet in the afternoon — three for birdies — and twice blasting the ball dead to the pin from sand traps.

Once Palmer pitched the ball into a man's jacket, the ball resting between the second and third buttons.

"Well, partner," Palmer jest-ed, "it's now up to you."

"Yeah," Dickinson winced. Then he chipped close to the hole to save a half with par.

Jacklin and Thomas defeated Masters champion Gay Brewer and Doug Sanders in the morning 4 and 3 and then won over Gene Littler and former PGA champion Al Gelberger 3 and 2.

Thomas and young Jacklin attributed their success to an understanding on the course.

"We have mutual respect for each other's game," Thomas said. "When Jacklin hit one in the woods, he started to apologize. I said, 'Forget it, it's my job now and I'll take care of it.'"

The most dogged match was that between Will-Huggett and Boros-Casper, and it produced some of the best golf. The medal score for the Americans was 70-69 while Will and Huggett had 70-70.

No more than two holes separated the teams and the match was even through the 13th of the afternoon. But on the 14th, the British bogeyed, the Americans took a par and went a hole ahead to stay. The last four holes were halved.

O'Connor and Alliss three-putted four greens in their afternoon match with Nichols and Pott and had tough luck on the 17th.

One down with two to play, O'Connor hit an 80-foot putt which rammed the back of the cup and bounced seven feet away. Alliss then missed the second try for a bogey 5 that closed the door.

Knights Hosting Randolph Today; Bradford's Jayvees at Sheffield

Eisenhower and Sheffield broke into the victory column for the first time this season last week and both stand a good chance of running the streak to two games today.

The Knights (1-4) host Randolph, N. Y. (2-2-1) and the Wolverines (1-5) will entertain Bradford High's junior varsity team. Both contests are scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m.

After a few disappointing games, Eisenhower notched the initial win against Forestville last week and would like to stay on the same trail.

Randolph, today's opponent, opened with a 19-7 victory over non-league foe Pine Valley, then fell to Silver Creek (24-13) and Frewsburg (33-26) before routing Forestville, 34-0. Last week, the Cardinals held highly-rated Maple Grove to a 6-6 tie.

Backfield starters for Randolph will be Jerry Summerfield, a 175-pounder, Kim France and Jim Reed, with Frank Dexter at quarterback, Dab Vesneske, a 185-pound senior tackle, anchors a veteran line.

Eisenhower has been concentrating on timing and speed on offense this week and are reported to be improving. It will probably take the best effort of the season for the Knights to upset the Cardinals' ap- plecart today.

Sheffield was originally slated to play Coudersport today, but the Falcons had made a schedule commitment with Allegany, N.Y., and Coach Joe Giordano was forced to find a substitute to carry the Wolverines over to next week's contest with Ridgway.

He came up with Bradford's Jayvees, who won't be as easy a pushover as Wolverine fans might expect.

The Little Owls are 3-1 in the NYAP Junior Varsity League, the lone loss coming at the hands of a 6-1 James-town eleven. Earlier this week, Warren's Jayvees whipped the Bradford team, 26-6, but the Little Dragons used an ineligible player (one who had played in Saturday's varsity game with Olean) and forfeited the game.

No subterfuge was involved; the Warren coaches willingly forfeited the game to Bradford in order to give the gridders in question game experience. (He had participated in only a few plays against Olean, but according to league rules was not eligible for the junior varsity game.)

The Wolverines' biggest foe may be overconfidence. After running up against teams like Port Allegany and Smethport, the Orange and Black could view today's contest as a "breather."

Giordano has warned his team about taking the contest too easy and stated last night that it would be treated like any other game on the schedule. Preparations were conducted as usual, except that the Wolverines did not have the benefit of a scouting report, another plus in the Little Owls' favor.

Sheffield will have one more handicap. The injury flux that has plagued the Wolverine camp all season struck again this week. Senior end Ed Cowan tore ligaments in his left knee and will be out for the season. Rob Hart, who was shifted to the backfield earlier this season, will return to the starting offensive end slot and Merle Rice will take Hart's place at halfback. Ray Morrison will be starting fullback today and the rest of the lineup, both offensively and defensively, will be the same as against Youngsville.

The Wolverines are past the point of a .500 season, but a victory today could put the Orange and Black in good mental shape for the game with unbeaten Ridgway and anything could happen.

Finley Picks on Kennedy To Pilot A's in Oakland

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles O. Finley announced yesterday the signing of Bob Kennedy, former Chicago Cubs' head coach, to a two-year contract as manager of Finley's new Oakland Athletics.

Finley said Kennedy, last season a coach for the Atlanta Braves, had been signed two weeks ago, but the announcement was held up pending approval of the shift of Finley's Kansas City franchise to Oakland.

Finley declined to mention the salary involved, stating, "It is not our policy to announce salaries."

Earlier in the day, Kennedy's appointment had been announced by the Oakland Tribune and confirmed by Kennedy's wife at Mesa, Ariz., where Kennedy is working at the A's instructional camp.

"The official announcement was supposed to have been made in Oakland," said Finley, who will continue to maintain his insurance office in Chicago and also continue to reside in the Chicago area.

Kennedy, 47, supplants Luke Appling, temporary A's maner after Finley fired Alvin Dark in August.

Finley also named three coaches, Bill Posedel, former San Francisco Giant pitching coach; Johnny McNamara, now with the A's, and Sherman Lollar, last season a coach for Baltimore.

Finley said there was no substance to speculation that Joe DiMaggio, former New York Yankee great and an idol in the San Francisco area, would join the club in any capacity.

Along with Kennedy, Posedel and McNamara are at the A's instruction camp in Mesa.

Kennedy was quoted by the Oakland Tribune as saying: "I'm tickled pink with the appointment. I've known it was coming for a week. I feel real good about it, and I think the whole league feels good about us going to Oakland."

"Oakland is a growing sports town."

"It's very interesting that the young A's won only 19 of 53 one-run games in 1967. This indicates we have good pitching and a good defense. Reversing those one-run decisions could make quick changes in the standings for this club."

"I will run a tight, business like training camp and stress fundamentals at Bradenton, Fla., next spring."

Kennedy piloted the Cubs to seventh place in 1963 and eighth in the National League in 1964.

In 1966, he managed Albuquerque, N.M.,

Wanderings

by Marion Honhart

RICK LIND WORLD FAMOUS WIG STYLIST is here from New York City. He may be consulted on the Main Floor of Levinsons beautifully redesigned and redecorated store. If you didn't get to see him yesterday, just call Neil Seifert of Levinsons, 723-2400, for an appointment today. According to my information, the lovely wigs are all of human hair--none of that synthetic make-believe--and are priced at $50. There is no charge for consultation. All the necessary fitting and styling is done right at Levinsons by Mr. Lind. This is his last day in our little town on the banks of the Allegheny.

THE STAGE IS SET for 8 o'clock on both Friday and Saturday, November 3rd and 4th, in the Warren Area High School auditorium. There the setting transports you to an ancient castle high in the Alps, with all sorts of mysterious and weird thoughts aroused in the minds of the young travelers stopping there. For instance: The fireplace isn't anything out of the ordinary, but the subject of the oil painting above its mantel is. Why the little door below the face of the grandfather clock and the Egyptian mummy case? Who is summoned by the bell pull, and, who is the lady on the basement door? The Seniors urge you to come to their play and find out.

MR. AND MRS. LESTER CRISWELL of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, were visitors this week at the home of the Thomas Conways, 513 Fourth ave enroute home after a reunion in Boston, Mass., with their son and daughter-in-law, the Stephen Criswells. The former Warrenites, known to friends as "Dolly" and "Red" are active in art and dramatic circles--Dolly has gained national recognition in puppetry and creates her own fascinating puppets. While in Warren she entertained Mrs. Conway's twokindergarten classes and other grades in Lacy school.

The elder Criswells were particularly happy over their family reunion, Stephen and his wife having just returned to this country following a two-year residency in Greece with the Smithsonian Institute's satellite tracking program. Stephen, who attended East Street School as a child, will take up his work at Cambridge, Mass., as technical coordinator for the Smithsonian program at Harvard Observatory.

MINIATURES: Mrs. Jack Gidders, 120 Oak street, has returned from a week's vacation in Arlington, Va., as the guest of her daughter, Joyce, 1301 S. Arlington Ridge rd. Joyce is employed by the Transportation Association of America as secretary and receptionist.

The Hill and Dale Garden Club meets Wednesday, the 25th, at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Walter Sweeney on Big Tree road. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Conrad Youngberg, Mrs. Donald Barrett. Mrs. Ernest Beckwith will give a book review, and, officers will be elected.

Home Street School parents will have their monthly meeting on Monday evening at 7:30. Harold Miller, Warren school supervisor of Health, Physical Education and Recreation will speak on "Elementary Physical Education Program." Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Jack Lobdell.

St. John's LCW will meet on Monday evening at the church at 8. There is to be a work project for overseas and a clothing drive for Lutheran World Relief.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS. Recently we attended two church weddings. Following the first ceremony the bride and groom performed the traditional kiss (which was too long and too intimate in my opinion). They then faced the guests and the minister announced in a voice that sounded like a carnival barker, "And now may I be the first to introduce Mr. and Mrs. . . . ." The guests laughed and broke into spontaneous applause.

The second wedding was in the same church with the same minister officiating. Again he concluded, "And now may I be the first to introduce . . . ." Again the guests applauded.

It seems to me that a wedding should be a dignified occasion and not give the guests the feeling they are in a theater. Please comment. — DENVER

DEAR DENVER: My opinion is the same as yours, and the minister's theatrical touch, of course, is what set it off. Someone should have a word with him.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl, 16. So often I read letters in your column from married women who seem to be head of the family. Their husbands are off hunting or fishing or they are so involved in business that the wives must do double duty. It seems like most American wives get a raw deal.

I came across this lovely poem and I'd like to share it with you and your readers. The author is unknown. Please print it.

Woman was created from the rib of man,
She was not made from his head . . . to top him;
Nor out of his feet, to be trampled upon;
But out of his side, to be equal to him;
Under his arm, to be protected;
And near his heart, to be loved.
Just sign me, A GIRL FROM LUBBOCK

Couple Celebrate 35th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schafer of 609 West street celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary with a reception held at the Kalbfus Rod and Gun Club last Sunday, October 15. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Font, with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Font, were hosts for the affair.

Mrs. Schafer received guests in a dress of brown satin with an overlay of lace to which was pinned a corsage of yellow roses. Mr. Schafer had a white carnation boutonniere. The flowers were gifts of the children.

The day began with a Mass celebrated at Holy Redeemer Church by Bishop John Francis Whealon of the Diocese of Erie. The Mass was attended by many relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Schafer were united in marriage on October 17, 1932, in St. Joseph Church, Warren, by the Most Rev. Alfred M. Bauer, present pastor of the church, who at that time was assistant pastor.

Special guests at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Musante of Warren, who were maid of honor and best man at the wedding 35 years ago. Mrs. Musante was remembered with a corsage of pink roses, and Mr. Musante with a white carnation boutonniere.

A four tier anniversary cake centered the table with arrangements of mums and the numerals "35" done in flowers. Another decorative highlight was a moneytree given to Mr. and Mrs. Schafer by their children. Aides at the affair were Mrs. Herman Nesmith, who served the anniversary cake, Miss Barbara Font, the couple's granddaughter, in charge of the guest book, and Larry Font, grandson, who served punch. Others assisting were Mrs. Kathleen Kays, Mrs. Joyce Allen, Herman Nesmith, Thomas Font and Gene Green. Background music was played on the organ by Gail Olsen.

Among the many gifts and cards received were anniversary remembrances from as far away as England.

Guests attended from Roisertown, Md.; Columbus, Ohio; New Bedford and Fairhaven, Mass.; Buffalo and Jamestown, N.Y.; Youngsville, Erie and Clarendon, and, a convoy of Kinzua Valley CB Rangers.

Executive Board Of CCD Sets Budget For The Year

St. Joseph Parish executive board of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine held its regular monthly meeting recently. The budget for the year was established after discussion and modification as presented by the budget committee consisting of Jeannine Turner, Jerry Lafferty, and Jack Clark.

Reports were given by the chairmen of the CCD active divisions comprised of teachers, helpers, fishers, Bishop's committee, audio-visual aids, and discussion-action. The need for more volunteers in these divisions was stressed.

Imogene Weidert, chairman of the Bishop's committee, is particularly in need of volunteers interested in making personal calls. It was suggested that workers in this division be increased through other parish societies.

The Catholic Family Movement, discussion-action division co-chairman Kay Lafferty, reported completion of study of the introductory book, the central theme of which was the neighborhood. Among its activities for which dates have been set is a demonstration meeting with a couples group from the Methodist Church as guests. Anyone interested in joining the Catholic Family Movement discussion-action group may do so by contacting the Laffertys or any present member of the group.

Plans have begun for the parish CCD Day with Kay Lafferty and Jeannine Turner as chairmen of the initial planning committee.

The meeting was attended by the largest group of parents to date. Refreshments were served from a table appointed in an autumn theme.

250 at Jamesway Style Show

Two hundred and fifty enthusiastic patrons attended the Tuesday evening Style Show held at the Jamesway on the Warren-Jamestown road. A handsome line of women's wearing apparel was tastefully modeled for morning, afternoon and evening; children's daytime and bedtime clothes were also on display.

The fashion show, which began at 8 o'clock, was arranged under the chairmanship of Mrs. Mary Jambitter, head of the Ladies Department and fashion coordinator for the event, and the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Clara Lee, head of the children's Department at Jamesway. Melva Weber of the Jamestown radio station, WJTN, was the commentator. An important part of any woman's appearance is her hair, and hair styles for the show were by the Casa Bella Salon.

Modeling the good looking fashions for my lady were Dolores Schryver, Eleanor McCredle, Marie VanDixon, Lynda McCollough, Doreen Larson.

In the three accompanying photos Lynda McCollough may be seen wearing a loden tweed coat with collar of dyed racoon; the coat which has a self belt and collar, may be worn without the fur.

School girl Wendy Johnson is in a most attractive tailored red coat of man-made fur with hood and lined in Oxford gray pille. With it she wears a two-piece jumper of burgundy corduroy with a burgundy and white polkadot blouse.

Dolores Schryver is chic in a tailored white after dinner two-piece tunic with mandarin neckline. Its festive appropriateness is enhanced by an Autumn Haze mink stole.

Valued at $500, this is the mink stole that is to become the prized possession of some fortunate patron when Jamesway gives it away at 8:30 next Friday evening, October 27.

At the conclusion of the parade of fashions, refreshments were served to those in attendance.

One-Room Dutton Library is 53 Years Old

Despite its rustic appearance, Dutton Library has a selection of over 5,000 books, many on the current best-seller lists. There are volumes of fiction and non-fiction for both the very young reader and the more mature adult reader, as well as up-to-date magazines, circulars and an excellent selection of reference material.

It is more than just a library, however. Children attending grade school at Columbus find shelter at the library while waiting for rides home from school. For these children who do not wish to read or do home work, games such as checkers are provided to pass the time.

Though rustic in appearance, Dutton Library has over 5,000 books which are available to the residents of Columbus. These books include volumes for both young people and the more mature adult reader, along with an excellent selection of reference material.

Although regular hours are scheduled from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. everyday but Saturday and 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesdays and Wednesdays, the library functions to service the people of Columbus and has been known to stay open hours past the scheduled closing time so that a farmer from one of the outlying areas of the community may obtain a book after he has completed his farm chores. To extend this service even further, notice is posted at the library that books may be borrowed or returned at any time by simply contacting the librarian.

Dutton library was founded in 1914 by a group of interested residents who, through donations and gifts, raised enough money to start the Columbus Free Library as it was first called. The library opened January 2, 1915 with about 300 volumes.

Today Dutton Library and the Columbus Library Association is a non-profit organization operating entirely by donations from the community. Operations are supervised by a board of trustees elected by the membership. This board consists of Warlo Morris, president; Daniel Toplovich, vice president; Mrs. Patricia Fargo, secretary; Mrs. Doris Fralick, treasurer, and Frank Arnold, trustee. The volunteer librarian is Mrs. Isabel Morris, a retired school teacher who has served with the library for over 50 years.

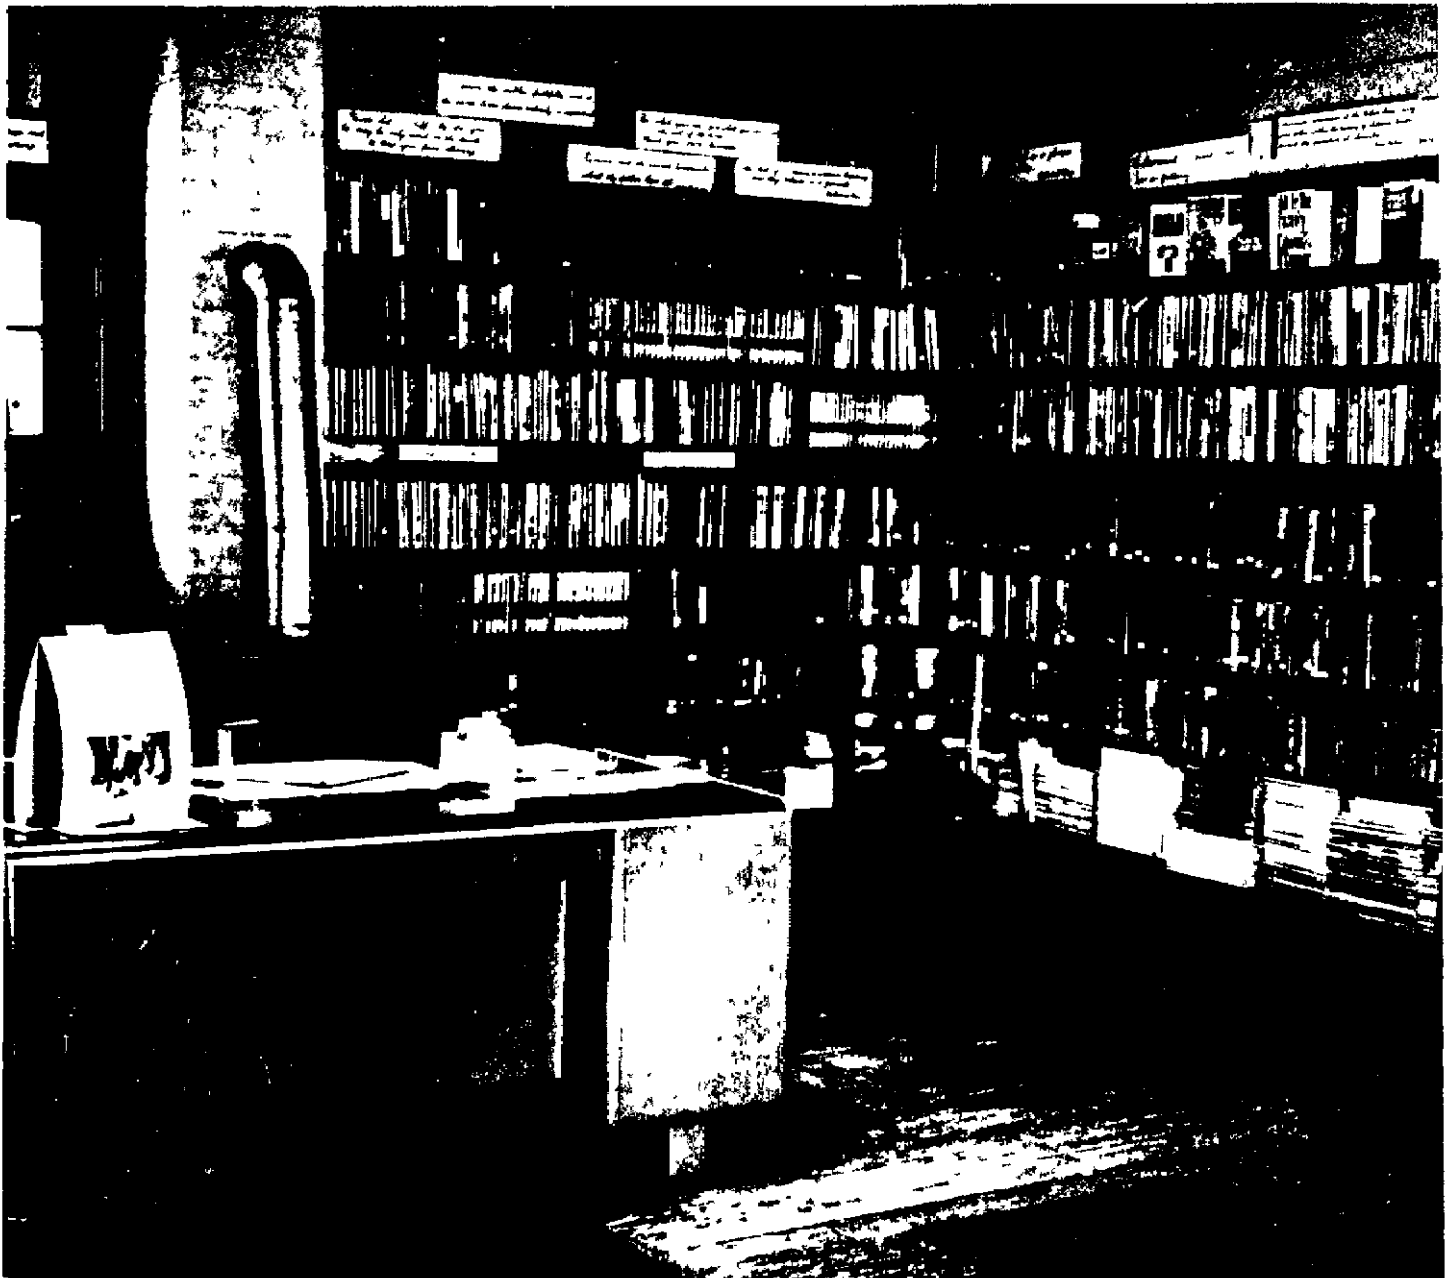

Today, Dutton Library, though modest in size, is constantly improving its service through improvements to the building and with the addition of new books to its shelves. One of the few remaining smaller libraries in Warren County, Dutton continues to offer an immeasurable service to the community of Columbus.

VOLUNTEER LIBRARIAN

Mrs. Isabel Morris, volunteer librarian, has been serving the Dutton library for over 50 years. A retired school teacher, Mrs. Morris recently received certification from the state for completion of a workshop in "The Selection and Use of Children's Books."

REV ARTHUR F. HUMMEL

By Rev. Arthur F. Hummel
Pastor of the Akeley and Russell Methodist Churches.

This expression so familiar to all of us is found in Paul's letter to the Romans, "I am debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise." (Rom. 1:14) Paul felt the debt he owed to all nations was the obligation laid on him to preach the Gospel to them. Greeks and Barbarians included all people. He was well acquainted with the great philosophers of his day as well as the common people. In that Roman world Greek was the universal language. "Barbarus" originally meant "a speaker of an unintelligible tongue"; then in Greek, the speaker of a language not Greek. Even the Romans were as much barbari as the Scythians. So on the principle that all alike have a claim upon me, I feel an obligation to preach the Gospel.

Have you ever stopped to think of the debt you owe to so many others? Think of the debt to your own family in the early years of your existence. Parents made all provisions for your every need and coddled and nurtured you through the first twenty years of life and at great expense to themselves.

Not only were parents directly involved but many others as well. Taxes paid by responsible citizens provided the first twelve years of formal education and at no expense to you, and this is not the end.

We are debtors to the Church. Throughout our lives the beloved community of the church has nurtured us in such a way that we have been blest above all other people the world around. Statistics indicate that 50 per cent of our population have some connection with the Church. This group provides 75 per cent of the home owners of our nation, 80 per cent of our College students and 90 per cent of all support of benevolent causes.

By various routes, our lives have been shaped and our goals established.

Think also of the debt we owe to people of other civilizations even though they do not now exist. Our code of laws, concepts of freedom and philosophy come trickling down through the centuries.

Since so many helped make us what we are, there can be no such thing as a self made man. A speaker addressing a high school audience urged them to go out in the world and get what they wanted. He had extolled the virtues of self made success and attributed his own success to his own pluck, pluck, pluck. At the close of his address he asked for questions. A wise student (may his tribe increase) asked, "How do we know to pluck?"

Our Lord Jesus Christ has a tremendous investment in us in all He provides and all He does for us in redemption.

We are debtors to many persons and groups. We acknowledge that to whom much has been given, much shall be required—and we would respond that such love "demands our souls, our lives, our all."

LIBRARY BOARD

YOUNG READER

SHELTER

Many of the youngsters of Columbus who attend grade school find shelter at the library while waiting for rides home from school. For these children who do not wish to read or study, games are provided to pass the time while waiting. "Bruiser" Stockton (left) and Jim Deuschlander are often found at the library enjoying a game of checkers.

Pre-School Story Hours Are Filled

Miss Ann Lesser, children's librarian at the Warren Public Library, announced yesterday that registrations have been filled for the present series of pre-school story hours. The "pre-schoolers" have been assigned to two groups which will meet on alternate Wednesday mornings at 10:30.

Miss Lesser stated that interested parents whose pre-school children are not enrolled in the present series of story hours may call the public library about registering their children for future story hour programs. If there are a sufficient number of parents who display this interest, Miss Lesser will schedule another group of pre-school story hours when the present series is completed.

Monthly story hours for school-age children will begin at the Warren Public Library on Wednesday, October 25, at 4 p. m. and will continue on November 15 and December 20. The dates for subsequent story hours will be announced later.

The story hours for school-age children are planned for boys and girls from kindergarten through the fourth grade. In addition to telling stories to the children, Miss Lesser will be using films and other material at each session to provide a varied program.

Pre-registration for the Wednesday afternoon story hours is not necessary, and boys and girls from Warren and surrounding areas are invited to attend these entertaining and educational programs.

Be sure Your Child Can See

Eighty per cent of what a child learns before he is 12 is through his eyes—vision is vital to reading and most effective education, says Dr. Alden N. Haffner, a consultant to the Society for Visual Care, a non-profit group. He is executive director of the Optometric Center of New York. By the time a child is 3, and certainly no more than 4-years-old, he should have had his eyes examined, at least once by specialists in eye care," the doctor explains.

"Visual defects such as crossed eyes or wall-eyes, amblyopia (inability of an eye to see well) could lead to needless permanent loss of vision.

"Eye diseases or vision disorders should be examined and treated before the age of 6 to be most effective." No matter what one hears from laymen, children do not outgrow crossed eyes, or other functional defects. Eye glasses, exercises or surgery may be required.

Children may be frustrated in adapting to life, if vision handicaps him in school performance or play activities, he explains. "School work depends upon seeing clearly, efficiently and comfortably—and it depends upon proper lighting and protection from glare.

Dr. Haffner offers these signs as an indication that a child may need an eye examination by qualified professionals:

Stumbling over small objects, blinking more than usual when doing close work, holding books too close to eyes, rubbing eyes excessively, tilting head or thrusting head forward, inflamed or watery eyes, itchy or burning sensations in the eye, blurred or double vision and inability to see distant things clearly.

As outlined by Wolfersberger, the "Show-and-Do" training program will be a day of Boy Scouting activities built around a patrol of adults from each active Scout troop in Chief Cornplanter Council. Through an action-packed activity program, Scouters may learn basic and advanced Scouting skills, and have a most enjoyable fellowship.

Many veteran Scouters, says Wolfersberger, find such training sessions valuable refresher courses, and look forward to them to bring them up-to-date with latest developments in Scouting. The "Show-and-Do" program also provides newer Scouters with special experience in Scouting leadership skills.

'Life . . . New Life' Chosen As Reformation Anniversary

"Life. . . New Life" has been chosen as the theme of the 450th Reformation Anniversary observance which began on January 1, 1967. The anniversary commemorates the work of Dr. Martin Luther, the 16th century theologian who initiated the reformation of the church by posting 95 theses or statements for discussion to the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany, on October 31, 1517.

Eight Lutheran Churches in Warren County are among the more than 17,000 Lutheran congregations throughout the United States and Canada which will mark the 450th Anniversary of the Reformation. Participating Warren County Lutheran Churches include First, St. John's and St. Paul's of Warren; Saron and Berea of Youngsville; Hessel Valley Lutheran Church in Chandler's Valley; and the Bethany and Moriah Lutheran Churches of Sheffield and Ludlow.

Two Rallies, a Hymn Festival Service and a Children's Reformation Service, will be held, concurrently, at First Lutheran Church on Reformation Sunday evening, October 29, 7:30 p.m.

The slogan for the anniversary, "Life. . . New Life," is based on Biblical references to Jesus Christ as the Life of men and on a concept of the "repentance and renewal which the Spirit of God would bestow on men today through Him."

"It is an especially relevant thematic statement of the Gospel for the modern world," commented the Rev. Dr. Malvin Lundeen, chairman of the anniversary committee. "Man is disturbed by the meaninglessness of his life and by its emptiness in spite of technological advances and creature comforts; he is obsessed by the problems of the inevitability of death. Thus for the modern man the offer of 'Life. . . New Life'—meaningful, purposeful, eternal—is particularly relevant."

A symbol embodying the slogan has been prepared for the yearlong observance. It is shown in the above picture. Designed in shades of brown and green, the symbol depicts the brown roots of a tree growing into green leafy branches. The words "Life. . . New Life" are lettered across the center of the art piece, and the words "450th Reformation Anniversary" are at the base of the symbol.

Observance of this year's 450th anniversary of the Reformation is the first joint undertaking of the churches in the newly-formed Lutheran Council in the USA. This is a cooperative agency of four Lutheran bodies comprising most of the 9 million Lutherans in the nation. The participating bodies are the Lutheran Church in America, the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, the American Lutheran Church, and the Synod of Evangelical Lutheran Churches.

LIFE... NEW LIFE

The best of computers never could have projected the effect of Martin Luther's hammer blows on the Wittenberg church door 450 years ago on October 31.

Prospects for this radical young priest to achieve anything significant were slim. But his insights, his principles, his beliefs remain alive. They are more alive than ever before in this age of fresh air entering through opened windows.

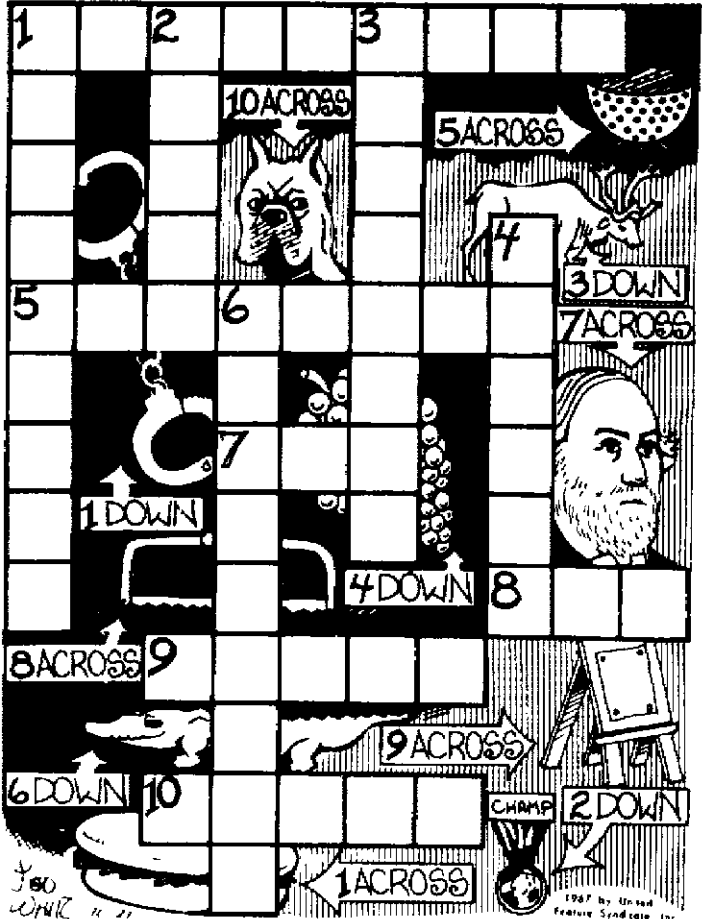

This Reformation anniversary year emphasizes the theme: LIFE—NEW LIFE. It means that life moves toward death but does not stop. Death is transition. Those who know Jesus Christ look forward to life in the fullest sense.

The apostle John put it this way. "In Him was life, and the life was the light of men." That's what the Reformation message keeps trying to explain. Are you listening?

By Lenore McIntyre-TV Editor
WEEK'S PREVIEW

ABC network will vary its schedule for the coming week with no less than seven specials, starting Sunday night with a new production of "Johnny Belinda," starring Mia Farrow.
Monday night, ABC presents
"Coach Bryant: Alabama's Bear" and a repeat of "The Long Childhood of Timmy," concerning a retarded child.

On Tuesday night Circle Theatre presents "Kismet" and on Wednesday night there's "The King and P" and "With Love,
Sophia." The week of specials concludes Friday night with
"John Davidson at Notre Dame."

NBC has a special movie night on Tuesday, starting off with the Beatles' movie "A Hard Day's Night," followed by a Jerry Lewis fantasy, "Cinderfella." "Justice For All?"
is a Friday night special.

CBS News Special on Tuesday night is "Where We Stand in Vietnam." On Thursday night, CBS repeats the popular Halloween special, "It's the Great Pumpkin, Charlie
Brown," followed by a comedy
special, "The Don Knotts Show."

A NATION OF IMMIGRANTS

A special entitled "A Nation of Immigrants" will be televised by three area channels starting at 10 o'clock tonight on Ch. 35, again at 10 p.m.
Monday on Ch. 6 and at 10 p.m. Wednesday on Ch. 2.

This story in which the weary eyes of the oppressed and hungry around the world focused on a land of freedom is based on a book of the same title written by the late President
John F. Kennedy.

The U.S. was the only country to which 42 million immigrants wanted to go for reasons of religious persecution, political oppression and economic hardship. Most of the program is devoted to those who did reach our shores and put their own imprint on our "melting pot" culture; however, tens of thousands of families were turned away within sight of the New York skyline.

Senator Robert F. Kennedy delivers a prologue against a backdrop of the now deserted Ellis Island. The special is the story of courage and hope, at times rich in humor.

MEET THE PRESS

IS 20 YEARS OLD

"Meet the Press" will celebrate its 20th anniversary on the NBC network Sunday, Nov.
5. The guest for that day will be George F. Kennan, former U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, whose book "Memoirs" will be published on Nov. 6, as the Soviet Union celebrates its 50th anniversary.

After two decades on the air,
"Meet the Press" is today the oldest regular network television program. It has kept the same simple news-conference

format with which it started:
an interview guest of national or international prominence questioned by a panel of newsmen.

It is usually televised from Washington, but may come from New York, abroad, or where-ever the action is taking place.
The roster of guests has included poets as well as kings, scientists as well as politicians, labor leaders and business tycoons.

"Meet the Press" was created by Lawrence Solvak, starting as a radio program in 1945.
Since 1955, he has had a long-term contract with NBC to continue as producer and permanent panelist.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1967

ARIES (March 21 to April 20) — A tight rein on financial matters, your natural generosity could make you do something foolish. Introduce a modicum of patience, self-control. Be satisfied with slow but steady progress.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21) — Your time to grasp opportunity not seek it. Decide how obstacles should be met before you enter upon your plan of action. Watch discussions with lifemate or marital issues might become martial.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) — You can adapt yourself to any turn of events yet have a tendency to lack concentration and steady purpose. Avoid this lest inconsistency takes over. Turn natural abilities into productive channels.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) — Your desire for new worlds to conquer should be temporarily shelved. You do have to accomplish routine and special obligations. Your vivacity makes you agreeable and pleasant companions.

LEO (July 24 to August 23) — Friendly indications predominate. Pitch in and meet any adverse situations with strong resolve. Leoites have wonderful intuition. Have it guide you through the maze of prevalent confusion.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23) — Teamwork and discriminating choice of approach to current problems your forte. Use it advantageously. Tabu self-consciousness.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23) — Be regulated by noble motives and do all in your power to assist others. During free time be a good listener and offer comfort and personal aid where called for. You will be the happier for it.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22) — Your disdain of danger and readiness for adventure would prove disastrous IF your conservatism did not govern and point out the way. Great lovers of the outdoors, partake of it in easy doses.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21) — Your jovial nature enables you to see the funny side of things. Such a relief valve is to be pampered and used, never set aside. Have a penchant for seeing things to a speedy conclusion. Don't lose it.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) — Use your organizing and philosophical ability to prescribe for today's requirements. Like Sagittarius, your genial and witty nature soften many an otherwise rough situation, dilemma.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) — Strength of purpose is the key today. A phlegmatic person never seems to achieve his objective but you by extra push, candor and application rise to the occasion. Self-reliance and optimism import.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) — Associate yourself with strong and permanent enterprises. Ever ready to be generous like Arians but must not overrule caution and give away that which is meant for themselves and their loved ones.

YOU BORN TODAY: Your major characteristic is intuition. Can rely upon it to a great degree but it must be backed by a wholesome amount of practical knowledge and study. Are quite humanitarian and cannot stand seeing others suffer. Naturally affectionate, you are generally quiet and unassuming and at times find it hard to make others listen to your good ideas, whereas others find you very approachable and helpful. Enjoy music, the arts, amusements. Frown upon injustices and do all possible to prevent it.

How to Keep Well By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1967 By The Chicago Tribune

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

CHRONIC AILMENTS AMONG ALCOHOLICS

Alcoholism is a growing health problem. Newer studies show that heavy drinkers are more susceptible to chronic diseases such as cirrhosis of the liver, high blood pressure, heart attacks, gout, diabetes, and emphysema. Of questionable consolation to those who drink excessively is that they are less likely to develop kidney stones.

The medical division of E. I. du Pont de Nemours reported these conclusions after conducting a survey utilizing the medical records of 1,844 workers, 922 of whom were known or suspected problem drinkers. An equal number had no trouble with liquor.

Among the alcoholics, 333 had hypertension whereas 148 of 922 nonproblem drinkers had high blood pressure. Peptic ulcer was found in 180 tipplers and in 117 of the controls. Coronary heart disease, strokes, nephritis, asthma, chronic bronchitis, gout, neuritis, and diabetes were less prevalent in teetotalers and nonproblem drinkers.

The died of alcoholics along with their tendency to use other drugs and live in a disorderly manner probably play a more important causative role than alcohol. Cirrhosis of the liver is the exception. In the past we believed that it resulted from nutritional deficiencies. More recent studies show that alcohol can produce a fatty liver which is the beginning of cirrhosis. At this time the heavy drinker usually is eating a well-balanced diet.

Nearly 11,000 deaths were attributed to alcoholic disorders in 1964. According to the Statistical Bulletin three-quarters of these were due to cirrhosis, a fifth to alcohol itself, and the remainder to alcoholic psychosis.

Statistics are not available on the number of deaths from heart disease, high blood pressure, and the other disorders mentioned previously in which alcohol played a contributory role. Lack of such information is understandable because of a reluctance to list alcoholism as cause of death when other complications can be recorded.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

NEW BOOK

'Scout Oath in Action'

A new book "The Scout Oath in Action" by Walter MacPeck has just come off the presses. This latest publication of the National Council Boy Scouts of America has a foreword by Alden G. Barber, who became fifth Chief Scout Executive of Boy Scouts of America October 1.

Author and editor of this 144 page book is a 53-year veteran in Scouting, and professional leader for 42 years. About a hundred men helped write it. The author selected from writings of many well-known figures and from Scouting magazines and books.

Every Boy Scout knows the Scout Oath, which reads: "On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

Chief Scout Barber in his forward observes: "Are there any other forty words, outside the Holy Bible, that have helped to brighten and give direction and purpose to human life in as significant way as these forty words of the Scout Oath have done? I think not."

"This book," he adds, "will contribute much toward the achieving of a vital need. It will help all of us, boys and adults alike, to keep fresh in our minds the importance of our using the Scout Oath, actually demonstrating it from day to day in action."

"The Scout Oath in Action" is available at the Chief Cornplanter Council and at the Printz Company, official Boy Scout distributor. It is priced at $1.35.

MacPeck is also author of a companion book, "The Scout Law in Action".
